Gala opening is planned tomorrow for Mikado

By Marg Bradley
 Globe Production is very proud to present Gilbert and Sullivan's best loved show, "The Mikado", at the John Elliott Theatre. Opening night is tomorrow (Thursday) followed by performances Friday and Saturday and May 12, 13, 14 and 15 at 8 p.m. with a matinee this Sunday at 2 p.m.

fine job of putting all the fun, beautiful music and pageantry into this wonderful show.

The set was designed by Jacky Willows. Jacky's work is well-known to area theatre-goers and she has outdone herself this time around. The costumes are colorful and very authentic.

If you are a Gilbert and Sullivan fan, no more need be said. And if you aren't familiar with Gilbert and Sullivan, this is your opportunity to find out what all the excitement is about.

The music is beautiful, the lyrics delightful, the story is non-sense; in short, an absolute delight.

The tickets are $12 and are available from Royal LePage, 170 Guelph St., Georgetown. For best selection, reserve in person. Call 877-4323 for more information.

Gala night, tomorrow, is very special, with wine being served in the Gallery after the performance. This is an excellent opportunity to meet the cast and production team. The Gala will benefit the North Halton Distress Centre. This is an opportunity to benefit the Distress Centre while enjoying a great evening out.

This production of the Mikado marks Globe's first venture into the world of light opera and the results are delightful.

Elise Dewsberry and Greg Diakun, artistic and musical directors respectively, are doing a

Indian Summer an Algonquin winner

By Lawson Oates and Dawn Wood

Indian Summer is an appropriately titled film for its Algonquin Park setting at Camp Tamakwa in late August. The scenery is captured brilliantly in the cinematography by Tom Sigel, bringing to life the colorful beauty of the landscape, so often a subject in much Canadian art.

The movie is director/writer Mike Binder's celebration of the natural world and the nature of human relationships. He blends his themes into the plot, which is the reunion of middle-aged adults at Camp Tamakwa, where they had spent their childhood summers in the so-called golden age of the camp.

The subplots are developed through the inter-relationships of the campers, past and present, and through their individual adult lives and experiences which have distinguished each camper. Binder is nostalgic at times with the mature campers indulging in childhood camp pranks or in moments of reflection and recollection that the campers all experience.

In addition to the magic of the Algonquin setting and well-developed storyline, Indian Summer shows some very good acting ability from a cast of relatively unknown actors and actresses.

In particular, the women have very strong leading roles.

presenting Cheap lunch? Try a church!

As well as their architecture and history, some of Britain's finest cathedrals and churches are gaining a new reputation - for good, inexpensive food. The Association of Ecclesiastical Caterers has produced "Eat at Cathedrals and Churches", a handy free guide to its 32 member restaurants and cafés. Some of the restaurants are in modern surroundings adjoining the churches, others are housed in crypts or cloisters. Traditional regional dishes, home-made soups and classic puddings feature prominently on the menu. London eating places include the vaulted crypt of St. Martin-in-the-Fields in Trafalgar Square and the Wren, a 70-seat split-level café which doubles as an art gallery at St. James's, Piccadilly. Shoppers in Princes Street, Edinburgh, can lunch in the stone-arched undercroft café of St. John the Evangelist. Other restaurants can be found at the cathedrals in Truro, Exeter, Wells, Winchester, Salisbury, Norwich, York, Chichester, Liverpool and Carlisle.
