M & M stages charity barbecue

From Winnipeg to Halifax and Georgetown, M & M Meat Shop owner/operators across Canada are hauling out the spatulas and heating up the grill.

Mac Voisin, President and

Founder of M & M Meat Shops, has announced Saturday, June 12 at the date for "Charity BBQ Day 1993". "Charity BBQ Day" is a chain-wide fundraising barbecue that raises money for the Crohn's and Colitis Foundation of Canada (CCFA). With a minimum donation of $1, the public receives a hamburger or hot dog and a soft drink. All proceeds go directly to the Foundation to fund research and education programs. This year's fundraising goal is $400,000.

"We started Charity BBQ Day in 1989," says Voisin, "and it's an event all our franchisees look forward to and believe in very much. We have the tremendous support of all the local communities and I'm thrilled and proud to say that once this year's target is reached, we will have raised over $1 million for the CCFC."

M & M Meat Shops have 122 locations across Canada, spanning six provinces: Manitoba, Quebec, Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

Over 200,000 Canadians are stricken with either Crohn's disease or ulcerative colitis, two principal forms of Inflammatory Bowel Disease (IBD). In fact, IBD afflicts more people in Canada than muscular dystrophy and cerebral palsy combined. Alarmingly, it is diagnosed increasingly in children under the age of 10. The cause and cure remain unknown.

"M & M Meat Shops Charity BBQ Day is now the Foundation's largest single fundraising event," says Ray van Berkel, Executive Director of the CCFC. "We are extremely grateful to have the kind of friends we do at M & M. Their generous support has provided us with the funds to expand our research programs and assist in improving the quality of life of those patients stricken with IBD."

M & M Meat Shop in Georgetown will host a charity barbecue and has activities, special guests and entertainment for everyone, this Saturday at 10 a.m.-6 p.m., 211 Guelph St., in the parking lot.

Come out and support a worthy cause.
