

Soccer played in stereo

By Ruth D. Taylor

Soccer in Bolton is soccer in stereo. There were three other games and a practice on the eight playing fields when the Under-15 Georgetown and Acton Girls Opti-Mrs. team met the Bolton Belmont Studio girls. Half-time entertainment was watching another soccer game!

The Opti-Mrs. kept the play in the Bolton half for extended periods of time and Luisa Simone, the Bolton goalie, did well as the Opti-Mrs. forward line rained shots over, under and around the goalposts. Kim Moore was successful in getting under the crossbar with a hat trick and a little help from her friends, Courtney Norman, Jenn Shields and Kathy Irvine.

Both teams were playing with no substitutes and Bolton was shorthanded, especially when Lidia Scipione wrenched her ankle in the second half and had to "ice" it.

The Opti-Mrs. forward line was caught offside several times as Bolton is learning how to manipulate this play. Midfielder Katie Morris, Jenn Royce, and Sharon Lootsma were passing well and getting the ball up to the strikers. Bolton forward Melissa Singer had a breathtakingly close one deflected off the fingertips of Opti-Mrs. goalie, Davina Taylor. The Bolton defense with Lidia Scipione, Vera Ditosto, Tricia Stadnyk and Charlene Urbanek was busy protecting the goal with body trapping and long kicks. The final score was 3-0 for the Opti-Mrs.
