

Silver Creek Valley being strictly monitored

By Oksana Buhel

The Public Liaison Committee (PLC) met Wednesday evening at the Town of Halton Hills Civic Centre to discuss the last of eight projects proposed in the Silver Creek Valley, before discussing the cumulative impact all eight will have on the environment.

The PLC, composed of representatives from environmental agencies, socio-cultural groups, economic groups and individual citizens, is one commenting agency which is reviewing the proposed projects in the Silver Creek Valley area.

The Steering Committee is another commenting agency involved with the Silver Creek projects. It is made up of representatives of the Ministry of Energy and the Environment (MOEE), Ministry of Natural Resources (MNR), Halton Region, Town of Halton Hills staff, PLC representatives, Credit Valley Conservation Authority and M.M. Dillon Ltd., engineering consultants for the projects.

The final commenting agency, whose views will be considered by M.M. Dillon before the complete environment study report is concluded and placed in the public record, is Halton Region.

Benson Leung, regional manager of special studies and research, is very positive about the cumulative impact study. "No one in Ontario has really done what we've done," he boasted.

The other projects proposed in the Silver Creek Valley Georgetown area are a Mountainview Rd. bridge spanning the valley; Main St. widening; construction of a water main along Main St.; establishment of a new municipal water supply at Test Well 15, near Main St. and the Silver Creek Valley; a proposed golf course; development in Georgetown South and development in Georgetown West.

Each project has been evaluated according to its degree of impact on the environment. Leung admitted the only projects which may present some difficulties are the golf course and the test well, but all projects will be more extensively studied, and ranked accordingly. If all projects cause too much strain on the environment, the projects prioritized at the bottom of the list will be eliminated.

Once the complete environmental study report is finished, a 30-day review period will follow, succeeded by formal approvals and then construction, operation and monitoring. Leung claimed the research portion of the project should be completed by September. "We're right on schedule," Leung boasted. "There are too many people involved for us to delay."
