Hannah's Closet re-opens this Weekend

Hannah's Closet is a specialty boutique located in a picturesque village setting and caters to the clothing needs of the discerning rural woman. In three and a half years of business our store has managed to build a strong and loyal clientele who all enjoy the good cheer and personal service that you will always find as you walk through our doors.

The highlight of each fashion season has also become one of the social highlights of our area, as we take over the entire dining room of the renowned Millcroft Inn in Alton, Ontario and enjoy an afternoon of gourmet food, excellent service and exciting new fashions. But be warned! The fashion shows are always a sell-out, so if you're planning on attending call and book your table just as soon as you get your invitation!

Expansion News

In August of 1992, President, Deborah Shortill was chosen to take part in a program hosted by the Ministry of Industry, Trade and Technology in conjunction with the Federal Business Development Bank. The "Step-Up" program has been designed to provide business expansion training for women entrepreneurs who have demonstrated a potential and an aptitude for growth. Monthly training seminars were arranged covering such diverse topics as strategic planning, financial statements, risk, financing options, human resource management and marketing. Participants were matched as protégés to more experienced and successful women entrepreneurs who acted as mentors and role models providing first hand advice and encouragement. Deborah Shortill's mentor has been Tri-ad International's President and CEO, Linda Collier. Tri-ad International is a multi-million dollar freight forwarding service company. Linda Collier was chosen as the Toronto Sun's 1991 "Woman on the Move" and Cargo Express and Air Canada's "Woman of the Industry" for all of Canada. Although their businesses are seemingly unrelated it was discovered that basic business concerns are universal and Linda has provided invaluable advice and support to Deborah in her expansion plans.

On Friday, August 13, 1993 Hannah's Closet will be re-opening at 74 Main Street, Erin in a newly renovated building with more than double the retail space. We have attempted to make all modern updates to the more than 100 year old building in keeping with the integrity of the original architecture. Special attention has been placed on providing fixturing that is both functional and aesthetically pleasing to the warm country atmosphere in the store. In response to overwhelming demand, an entirely new market share has been targeted with the addition of complimentary casual men's wear.

Erin Village itself has gone through wonderful transformations in the last 3 or 4 years. The downtown core is a wonderful mix of Victorian and eclectic architecture with each building boasting its own particular brand of individuality. Step inside any of the many independently owned shops and you will find a wealth of unusual quality wares and services.

We invite you to come, take a drive to the country and find out what all the excitement is about. See for yourself why Erin Village is fast becoming one of the "must see" hot spots on any countryside tour. Experience our warm, friendly hospitality and small town charm and while you're there come in for wine and hors d' oeuvres on Friday, August 13, 1993 at our Grand Re-opening celebrations!
