

Acton Social Services can help

Receiving social assistance or family benefits? Have you exhausted your UI benefits or are you ineligible for UI or on Workman's Compensation? Register for jobsOntario today!

This job creation and training program is designed to help the unemployed get back to work and to give employers the opportunity and funding to upgrade the skills of new and existing employees. Essentially, potential employees with various skills and qualities are matched to employers seeking staff with certain experiences and qualifications. Program coordinators believe that jobsOntario has been quite effective in accommodating both employers and recipients in Halton.

At Acton Social Services and Information Centre, we now carry the jobsOntario job listings and current job alerts. For those of you already registered, why not drop by and visit us at 19 Willow St. North, Acton. We are available from 8:30-4:30, Monday to Friday and can be reached at 853-3310.

Those interested in registering for jobsOntario or those employers seeking staff can call the "jobsOntario Hotline" at 878-8113 or 853-0501.

Punks plague apartment parking area

Residents of 60 and 62 Park St. apartments in Georgetown are well advised to keep a close eye on their cars.

Six car break-ins occurred within a week in the underground parking facility which services the apartment buildings. Halton Regional Police Services Detective Sergeant Mike Kingston pointed out apartment building parking lots are commonly targeted because of the high concentration of cars.

On Aug. 25, a 1986 Honda Prelude suffered $1,500 damage when it was pelted by rocks and beer bottles. The same night, the windshield of a Pontiac Grand Prix was cracked with a rock.

Two nights later, the front windshield of a Dodge Omni was smashed, and the trunk was damaged when suspects tried to pry it open.

Thursday evening, suspects attempting to break into another car were thwarted when the car alarm was activated. There was still $75 damage resulting from scratches on the chrome trim.

The following evening, the driver's-side window of a Dodge Ram was smashed, resulting in $100 damage, but nothing was stolen from the pick-up.

Wednesday night's car break-in was foiled by a resident whose car had been broken into several days earlier. The man was randomly patrolling the parking lot when he saw two youths trying to unlock the door of a Pontiac Camaro with a coat hanger. The youths fled when the man approached. The resident gave police a description of the youths, and feels confident he will be able to identify them.

Police are looking for two white males, approximately 18 years-old, both dressed similarly in black shirts, blue jeans, runners and baseball caps.
