Region Bus Watch program continues

Halton Regional Police, Ontario Provincial Police Joint Forces School Bus Program, "Operation Bus Watch", which was launched during the 1992/93 school year was a tremendous success. The project greatly reduced school bus infractions and bus drivers reported a marked decrease in violations since its inception. The Bus Watch Program saw 127 persons being contacted and cautioned by police for school bus-related offenses.

Because of its success and operational ease, the program will be continued throughout Halton Region again this coming school year.

Everyone involved hopes for a further decrease in school bus-related violations this year. The coordinated purpose and focus still remains the overall safety of children using the school bus system. Zero tolerance and police intervention will continue to be its purpose.

COSTA RICA

Costa Rica has an interesting railway system, originally designed to transport bananas, coffee and laborers. Visitors can now ride the Green Train as part of a day-tour organized by the TAM Corp. Passengers begin their journey in the capital city of San Jose and travel by bus through Baulio Carillo National Park to Rio Frio. There they board the Green Train, which meanders through plantations and rural communities, occasionally stopping to allow visitors to see the day-to-day activities of people living in the region. The eight-hour journey from the capital city costs approximately $70 US and includes lunch.

New winter brochures on Costa Rica and other sun destinations are now available at our office.
