Georgetown artists invited to exhibit

Three Georgetown artists are among the 22 artists selected to exhibit in the Fifth Annual Nassagaweya Art Show and Sale, Oct. 1 and 2 at the Community Centre in Brookville. A record number of applications this year made the selection particularly difficult, as the number of artists that can be shown is limited by the size of the hall.

"The selection process is never easy", explained noted Rockwood artist Carole Black, a member of the selection committee. "Art is so personal. But I truly enjoyed the process. The submissions were outstanding and varied. Some realistic, some expressionist. It should be a very interesting show" she continued.

Artists chosen to exhibit include Linda Donais, Tom Jacona and Laura Kingsbury of Georgetown; Tina Newlove and Ursula Reese of Campbellville; Nicole Southworth of Moffat; Gail Root of Rockwood; Donna Diamond of Eden Mills;

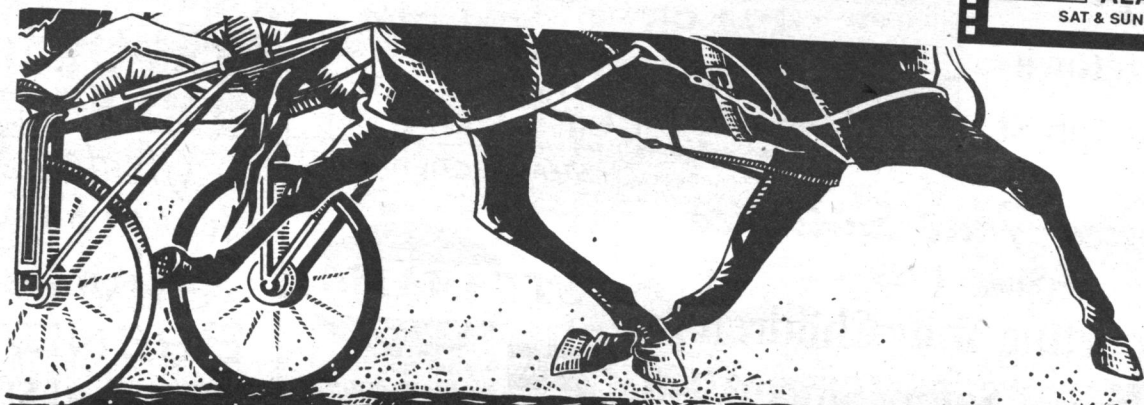

Maureen Casteller, Vicki Ferras, and Rosemary Simpson of Milton; Alexander Davison of Puslinch; Linda Kemp of Jordan; Doris Law and Alistair Morrison of Oakville; Terry McDonald and Joan Spavins of Mississauga; Wendy Melbye and Kai-Liis McInnes of Erin; John Mattar, Michael Peter Mooskops and Susan Nelson of Guelph.

Art mediums represented will include Oil, Watercolor, Sculpture, Pen and Ink, Acrylic, Photography, Lithograph, Calligraphy, Pastels and 3-dimensional. A wide variety of styles and price ranges will be included. A special exhibit will again highlight student art form as selected by the Halton Board of Education.

The Show and Sale is sponsored by Ebenezer Church Women in support of the New Community Addition which includes Handicap Access. It will again be held in the Nassagaweya Community Centre, located on the Guelph Line in Brookville, 6 km north of Hwy. 401. Hours are Friday, 4-9 p.m.; Saturday, 11 a.m. - 6 p.m.
