Ryan Martin priming for elite status

A senior boy was taken to heart last week's report, "Learn to Bowl the Right Way - the Championship Way" with the champions at Georgetown Bowl.

As a member of the medal senior boys' team last season, Ryan Martin is now priming for the elite status - a singles champion. To stake his bid for this, Martin started this season with a 772 triple, a 257 average. Moving up from the team leaves competition open for the male bowlers to fill the spots.

Cindy Clarke, in Senior girl's singles has a battle on her hands as Shapcott is now leading her by one pin with a 628 triple.

In fact, competition is keen among all divisions. The junior battle for the top spot is between Matthew Walker and Adam Scuralli who rolled a 236 to put the pressure on last year's shingles shooter. Lynn Moreland keeps her comfortable lead in the girl's section by virtue of a 219 single.

The bantam boys level is facing a war also. Brendan Louth has passed last year's top roller Richard Gostlin by six pins. But, they better watch out as a pee wee is pressing his challenge for recognition. Jason Pshyk has staked his claim by pulling within four pins of the older bowlers.

The team structures for all the youth bowling divisions - the pee wee, smurf, bantam, junior and senior - is still in the formation stage with a few openings still available for late beginners.

Last Saturday, the bantams had an opportunity to pick up a few of the latest tips from Ralph Miller, the seniors coach.

This summer, Miller joined the instructors at the Master Bowler clinic school for youth bowlers. So, learn to bowl the better way!
