THE TRUST

The Downtown Brain Trust was called into a full member session to consider all aspects of the coming Federal election.

A Trust member immediately drew the membership's attention to the recent cost cutting measure taken by the P.M. She had announced that by cutting the helicopter purchase from 50 to 43, she would save Canadians one billion dollars of the 5.8 billion dollar total. It was reported that Slinger of the Toronto Star applied Kim's mathematical formula to the whole order of 50 choppers. His study resulted in the fact that if Kim, using her formula, cancelled the complete order, we would get eleven choppers absolutely free of charge! How about that?

Another Trust member noted that the Liberal campaign people had come up with a scheme to make Jean Chretien look younger. They have put out a picture of Jean in a blue denim shirt, open at the collar. It is maintained that he looks ten years younger in the blue shirt. He might even get a chance to be in a beer commercial, he now looks so macho! Chretien takes the prize for the funniest comment in the campaign so far. He says the Tories have a new driver for the get-away car, but it is still the Mulroney gang in the back seat!

A member reported that the biggest problem facing the Reform party was getting people to call their leader Preston rather than Prestone!

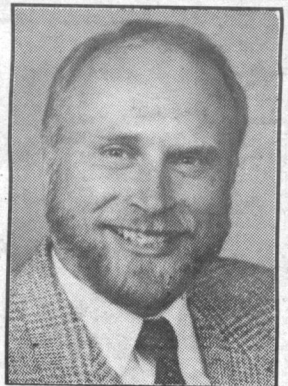

All the problems of the NDP were then discussed at length. Poor Premier Bob was denied a ride in the Toronto Labour Day Parade, - but Audrey was there! Bob said he would be pleased to campaign for the Federal NDPers - and got only a blank stare. But then Audrey dropped to 10% in the polls, so now maybe it is - "No hard feelings eh Bob - let's talk". Watch closely to try and find which of these folks is the most unpopular.

A Trust member then analyzed the Tory chances of being re-elected. He wondered if a majority of Canadian voters would forgive the Tories for the economic devastation of their country. He rhymed off some major business segments that the Tories' policies had hung out to dry. Surely the construction industry would not forget. Surely real estate would not forget. Surely manufacturing would not forget, nor would retailing. Now this dear lady, Kim Campbell, says there is really nothing she can do about the current economic situation. She confirms that she is still in favour of the Tory policies of the past nine years. She is saying - "Just trust me - we'll have a hoot!"

As reported to me, the membership passed a motion urging the chief electoral officer to design a ballot that had an extra section for Canadians who wanted to vote for "NONE OF THE ABOVE".
