

Here's looking at Halton Hills

The dragon ride

Kids of all ages enjoyed the midway rides at the Acton Fall Fair, held at Prospect Park, especially the dragon ride.
photo by Simon Wilson/HHTW

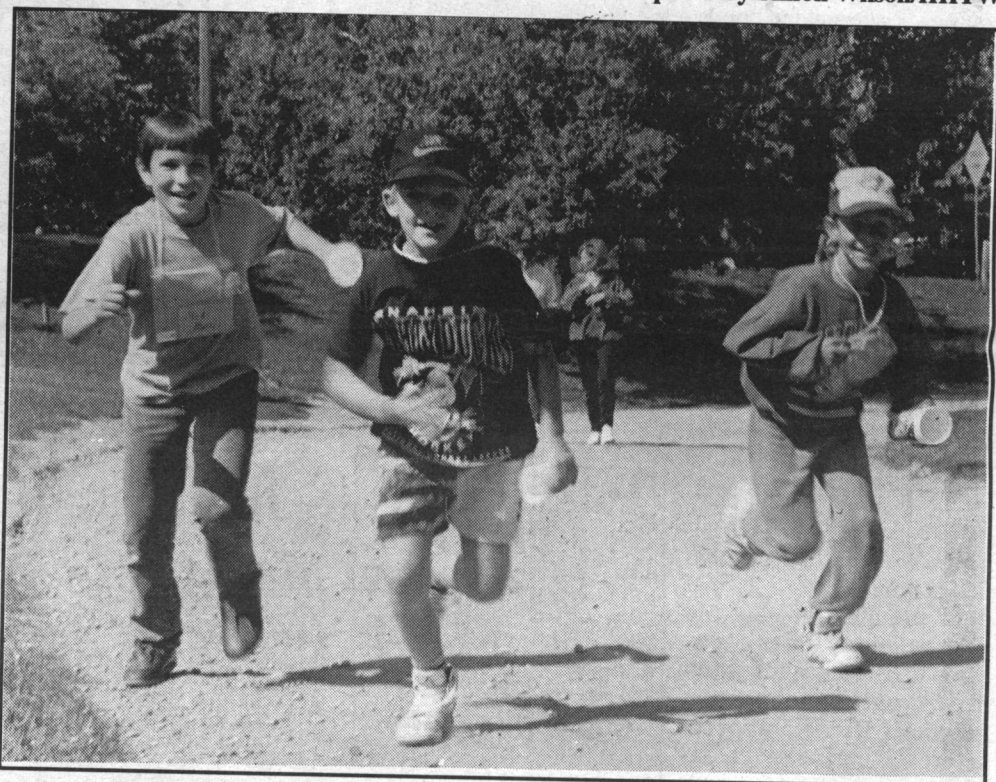

Moonlight madness

Shelly Riddell (left) was one the first customers to hand over her Downtown Dollars to Meghan Calhoun of Montgomery's during last Friday's Second Annual Downtown Georgetown Moonlight Madness event organized by the Georgetown Central Business Improvement Area.
photo by Simon Wilson/HHTW

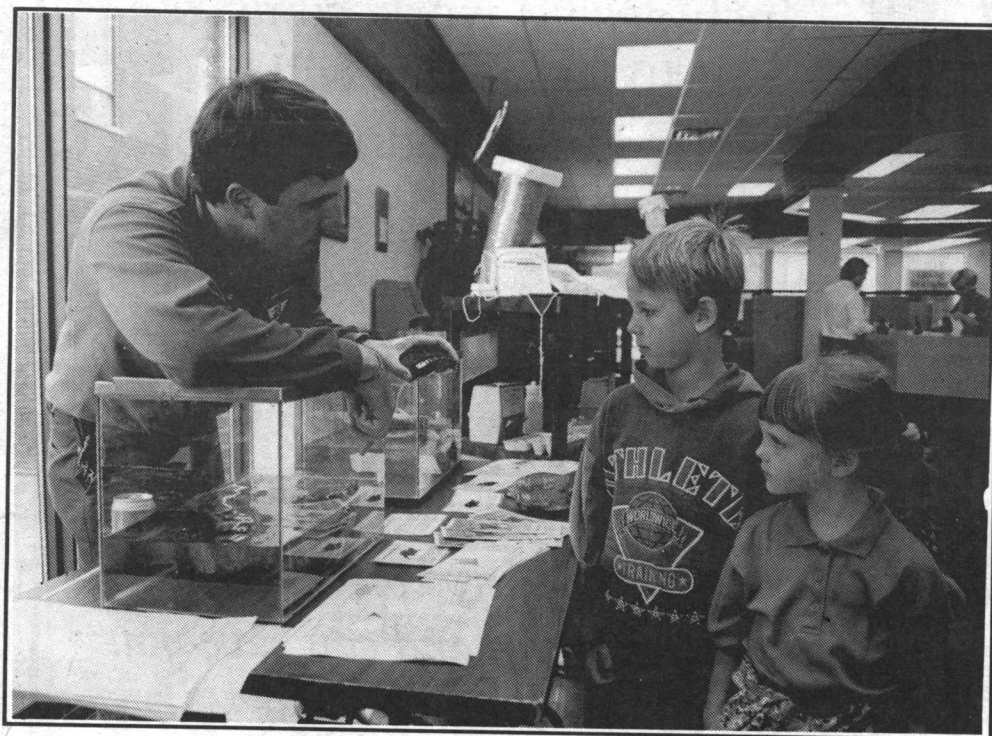

We're number 1

Arnies Body Shop rules the roost as champions of the Georgetown Ladies Flag Football League. Front row, from left: Sue Ferguson, Barb Davies, Mary McLaughlin, Caroline McMillan and Kelly Cunningham. Back row, from left: Colin Brown, coach, Judy Grinberg, Michelle McMillan, Jodi Jacobs, Andrea Campbell, Donna Brown, Carol Kovacevic and Kevin Brown, coach.
photo by Simon Wilson/HHTW

Running for Terry

Grade three Glen Williams Public School students Ted Morris (right), Andrew Tremblett (middle) and Chris Larocque give a final burst of speed during the school's Terry Fox Run, held Friday at Glen Williams Park. The school's sixth annual run raised $2,375 for cancer research.
photo by Oksana Buhel/HHTW

Investing in the environment

Ian Hendry, interpreter at the Terra Cotta Conservation Area, points out the differences between the snapping turtle and the painted turtle to Ellen and Joe Salmon of Ballinafad at Canada Trust, Main St. Branch in Georgetown last Friday. The Conservation Area is one environmental group which has applied for funding through the "Friends of the Environment Foundation," financed by Canada Trust and interested customers. To find out more about the foundation, please contact Cathy MacDonald at 877-2266.
photo by Oksana Buhel/HHTW

Special Scouts project

Boy Scouts Apple Days are scheduled for this Friday and Saturday in Georgetown and Acton, an annual event that has been ongoing for nearly 60 years and an activity that promotes Scouting in the community. Helping out in the local Scouts' cause will be, from left; Byron Jacone, Ashton Norman and Cameron Buy, all of Fifth Georgetown Cubs, St. Francis of Assisi.
photo by Jean Layman