Sharing a Dream

By Andrew Jorgensen

Glen Williams Public School

Terry Fox is famous for what he did. He was halfway across Canada when cancer struck his lungs.

Terry did die, but his dream didn't.

People are still running for Terry Fox, like Glen Williams School. For six years the Glen school has been running and has raised over $10,000. The Glen school cares about Terry Fox. We hope you do too.

Terry Fox's dream

By Tara Casson
Grade 5
Glen Williams Public School

On Friday, September 24, 1993 the Glen Williams school ran at the Glen Park trying to make Terry Fox's dream come true. It was exciting, fun and tiring.

There were people of all ages involved from kids in strollers to adults.

Every time someone did a lap of the park they would get a bread tag to keep track of how many times they went around.

Myself, I did 20 laps of the park and got $40 in donations.

I have been in the Terry

Fox run for five years. Just last year I got to meet Betty Fox, Terry's mother. She is a nice lady. She knows that cancer is going to get cured.

So far, Glen Williams school has earned over $10,000 throughout the years. I really enjoy the Terry Fox Run.

The person who brought this into the school was Dave Toderick. He has gone to another school.

This year, Liz Taylor was in charge and we have earned another $2,400. We only have about 200 students in our school, so that is good. We can cure cancer. Only you can make the difference.
