

Culture Days returning to Halton Hills this fall, locals encouraged to sign up

The national celebration of arts and culture is returning this fall from September 22nd to October 15th, and the Town of Halton Hills is looking for local residents to get involved and showcase the work they do within the arts and culture sector.

According to the Town, over 1,500 residents and visitors experienced local celebrations across three weeks last fall. Activities included workshops, performances, collaborative arts projects, film screenings, and more; all while supporting artistic and cultural life within the community.

Culture Days was initiated in 2010 by the Canadian Arts Summit, made up of some of Canada's largest arts organizations, and was inspired by the success of Québec's Journées de la culture weekend. Since then, Culture Days has grown to be a national celebration of arts and culture in communities from coast-to-coast.

If you are interested in becoming involved with Culture Days in Halton Hills, you can send an email to cuture@haltonhills.ca.

More information can also be found by visiting the Town's website, haltonhills.ca.
