Intelligent solutions

Did you know...

When the world was shaken by the Alaskan oil spill, Redken Vice President of Research, Lee Hunter took positive action. He went to work in the laboratory to work on a formulation to counteract the devastating toxic effects of crude oil on the fur and survival systems of indigenous Alaskan wildlife. The result? A cleansing/conditioning agent that has saved the lives of numerous sea otters and can be utilized at a moment's notice in the event of future spills.

Otters caught in the Alaskan oil spill presented special problems for animal recovery workers. But spray-on "otter coat conditioner" developed by Redken Laboratories, Inc. - and containing Dow Corning 245 fluid - helped speed the return of many otters to their natural habitat.

It's never too late to save the earth

Redken Laboratories, Inc. is doing its part for our future... working with our suppliers to identify and modify products that have a positive impact on waste disposal. Making every possible effort to develop and market environmentally friendly consumer products.

Educating our consumer about Redken's Beauty Through Science approach to our products and their effects on the environment... constantly striving to recycle, reserve, restore... doing our part to devise and support intelligent solutions for the people and the planet.

Our planet, our problem. Join us in this important enterprise. Together we CAN make a difference.

For more information regarding Redken's position on the environmental issues confronting our industry call 1-800-423-5369.

When you visit Christiane Hair Styles Ltd., you can feel free to leisurely browse in the "added" Serendipity Room. There are lots of collectables and antiques to choose from. Or just sit and relax have a coffee and discuss your next "wild style" with the stylist.

Christiane and her staff believe in shiny healthy hair, and will do their utmost to help you, their clients, to achieve this. They want you to know that they consider their salon to be very friendly and give high quality craftsmanship, with an exciting hint of surprise, that sets them apart.

Over the years, Christiane has always participated in some fundraising for charity organizations, this year being no exception. For the month of November, if a client comes in and has a deep moisturizing treatment, half of the cost will go to the United Way.

The story is not over, Christiane Hair Styles Ltd. intends to keep on giving quality and friendly services for ever and ever and ever and ....
