Acton Band concert Sunday

By Ellen Piehl
Special to HHTW

If you are looking for something special to do this weekend, then how about going to the Acton Band Hall tomorrow (Sunday) to enjoy an afternoon of music as the Acton Citizen's Band hosts their annual Christmas concert.

"It's just to celebrate Christmas," said Bandmaster George Elliott as he explained the purpose of this event.

Elliott said his band will be playing more than just traditional Christmas carols. "We will be playing music from Aladdin (the movie) and marches," he says.

He also said the band will be playing a tune that features a posthorn solo.

For those who like to eat, coffee, cookies and other goodies will be served during intermission at the concert.

The concert goes from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Acton Band Hall, 85 Wallace St. in Acton.

Tickets will be available at the door. Admission is $3, pre-school children get in free.

School sports supported

By Bryn Davies
GDHS Principal

One of the issues discussed at our monthly Parent Advisory Meeting last Friday was the cost of offering a comprehensive school team program. Jim Hall, our Head of Physical and Health Education, indicated that we sponsor 22 different competitive sports with over 30 teams. School teams require uniforms, equipment, transportation, referee fees, entry fees for tournaments and in exceptional situations, meals and lodging.

The Board provides funding for referees and buses; the school provides the Student Athletic Association with about $18,000 from cafeteria sales for a variety of team expenses; and the SAA raises additional money through its annual corn roast in September and our Spaghetti Dinner and Silent Auction in the spring.

Even with these available funds, students are often required to put down a deposit on equipment to provide their own footwear and to purchase aspects of their uniforms which they keep. Occasionally, additional money is required for special or voluntary events.

Jim Hall's conclusion was that Georgetown students get full value for their money. In cases where students would be denied an opportunity to participate because of lack of funds, they should see him or their coach. The school will make every effort to help kids out.

Today (Saturday) we have our annual Christmas Concert beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the cafe.
