Cakes are made for all occasions. Birthdays, anniversaries, showers, corporate cakes, yule logs and gingerbread houses, keep their decorators busy.

Bryan and Linda have lived in Georgetown for seven years and enjoy a busy, energetic life with their two children, Tamara and Todd.

With Christmas arriving soon, you will smell the aroma of Christmas baking if you are in the neighborhood of Cakes of Elegance. If you enjoy wholesome eating (they can tell you what is in everything they make), come Downtown and enjoy a warm welcome!

Hours are 6:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday, 6:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday, and we are open Sundays until December 19 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

We are a smoke-free environment!

"God Bless Us Every One." It is Christmas Eve in 19th-century London, and the streets are bustling with shoppers. Not the least merry among them are Bob Cratchit and his small son Tiny Tim. Historical painter Lloyd Garrison creates a vividly realistic scene in this work inspired by the Charles Dickens timeless masterpiece, A Christmas Carol. Porcelain. 22-karat gold highlights. 20.9 cm.

Merry Christmas and every good wish for the New Year!

the room. There is great excitement as he goes around greeting everyone. After breakfast the children line up to sit on Santa's knee and tell him what they would like for Christmas. Uncle George (Markou) is ready with the camera and the children leave with a picture of this momentous occasion.

This past week when I was speaking with Santa we got around to reminiscing about breakfasts past which, of course, included reminders of embarrassing moments and some of the questions the children ask. Like the time when one young lad wanted to know why Santa didn't sit at every table and eat breakfast! And some others:

"I didn't hear you coming, did you land on the roof?"

"Can I give Rudolf some of my pancakes?"

"Did you eat the cookies I left you last year?", to which Santa replied in the affirmative. "...So which one did you like best?"

"I was here last year, bet you don't remember my name!"

"If I leave you a beer will you drink it?"

Then there was the boy who was amazed (after a punch or two) that Santa's tummy was real, and the girl who told me "you wore that dress last year."

Yes, breakfast is a lot of fun and we hope to see you there.

This is the last column for 1993, so from all of us in Downtown Georgetown, we wish you a Very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.
