Mustang b-ball squad beats first-place Dick for first win

BY JAMIE BIRRELL
M-S REPORTER

Rob Huisman scored 24 of his team's 35 points to lead the McKenzie-Smith Boys' basketball team to their first win of the season last Thursday, a 35-34 verdict over the W.I. Dick squad in public school action in Milton.

The game was a little tense in the last 10 seconds as the clock failed to start and W.I. Dick poured it on, closing the gap to one point because of foul trouble by the visiting Mustangs.

Dick failed to sink the ball at the foul line in the dying seconds.

The Mustangs pounced on the rebound and retained possession until the buzzer sounded.

Mustang coach Bob Armstrong was very pleased with his team's victory, which was aided by great teamwork and the accomplishments of certain players.

Aside from Huisman, Don Jones, Derrick McIntyre and Chris Brading had solid outings.

Brading's play was particularly noteworthy as he stopped many plays on defence that could have resulted in a loss for the visitors.

Meanwhile, the Mustang Girls' basketball club, who also travelled to W.I. Dick on Thursday, played their best game of the year, but fell 39-13 to the hosts.

Despite a strong effort from the Mustangs, the punishing Dick offence was too hard to handle.

High scorer for the Mustangs was Kelly Holmes. Other strong games were played by Eleni Halis and Denise Katsilieris.

Both cage teams victims of road poundings

Last Tuesday, the M-S Boys' basketball team went to Georgetown's Centennial School. The Mustangs played well but came up on the wrong side of a 48-34 score.

Coach Armstrong was speechless after the game because he believed his team could have won.

As well, the Girls' basketball team travelled to Centennial. However, they failed to put on a good showing and were pounded to the tune of 44-6.

Andy's road win opens second round

On the strength of John Newby's two goals and one assist on Saturday, the Acton Novice II Andy's rep team grabbed the all-important 1-0 lead in round two of their OMHA playdowns against rival Cambridge.

Even sweeter music to the ears of the Andy's players and coach

Tony Mastro was the fact the 4-3 win was recorded on the road.

Acton's Andrew Forbes also had a three-point game with the club's third goal and two assists.

The visitors opened their scoring with Jeff Payne pulling the trigger, converting a passing play with Forbes and Newby.

Newby then notched Andy's second goal with help from Forbes.

After Forbes recorded an unassisted marker, Payne and Chris Jowett teamed to set up the winner by Newby.

Game two is set for the Acton arena this Saturday. Action begins at 4:30pm.

Weatherall's magic stymies Brantford

The Nellis Construction Sabres proved that Feb. 13 can indeed be a lucky day as they took round one of their Hub League Novice I series with a 3-0 beating of Brantford here on Saturday.

Unlike their counterparts, the Sabres were able to make good on their opportunities and spread their good fortune with a goal in each period.

Acton's Ryan Weatherall, who caught fire late in the regular season, rang in the post-season with a hot hand and banged in two of his team's three goals.

He set the tone early with the Sabres' opening goal as he took a feed from Ian Wallis and tucked it past the visiting keeper.

In the second period, Andrew Pembleton and Mitchell Moore teamed to set up Jason McGuire and up the home side's lead to 2-0 heading to the dressing room.

Weatherall added his second of the contest in the third, taking a pass from Wallis and making no mistake to put the game away. Ben Williams also assisted.

The Sabres now await their second round opponent.
