Raising Cain

By Andrew Kane

Well ladies and gentlemen, for all the hype this movie got, it certainly did not deliver. The story is about a quiet American family that turns ugly. The main character, Carter, is the victim of a multiple personality disease. He flips back and forth, killing women and stealing children for grotesque lab experiments. The movie is extremely confusing, it is hard to tell what is real and what is a dream. With Carter jumping back and forth between personalities it is also hard to tell who is doing what. Overall, the movie is poorly written and only good enough to make one's heart skip a beat during a few shocking scenes.

Rated R, 91 minutes.
