Beth-el Christian Reform church celebrates 40 years

BY DOUG HARRISON
The Acton Tanner

Beth-el Christian Reform Church member John Kamminga remembers Dec. 30, 1956 quite vividly.

It was then that the church, founded in 1953, conducted its services in the newly constructed basement. The church wasn't well-known but has since grown to between 85 and 90 members today.

"We bought a lot where the church is now (Churchill Road and Highway 7) and the basement leaked so much that we had to put 10 to 15 buckets inside it to catch the water," Kamminga chuckles in recalling the events.

On Saturday, 37 years and five ministers later, the church celebrated their 40th anniversary at the Acton Curling Club. With current Pastor Adrian Vangiesen in attendance, members mingled and chatted about happenings from the past 40 years. At 7:30 pm, there was an open house for people who were unable to attend the dinner at 5. Councillor Rick Bonnette and seven dignitaries (mainly former ministers) were present.

"The Christian Reform Church has grown tremendously in Canada over the years," says Kamminga. "It was not well-known when we came here from Holland.

"We attract a lot of families that don't go to church much. We're not just sitting cosy with our own little group. We reach out."

Reverend Andre, a missionary, was the church's first minister.
