Focus energy on RSI and the issues

To the Editor,

As someone who has been part of POWER from the beginning I find it hard to understand these constant references to POWER having been taken over by some new group. we are still the same bunch of people, although some people like Chris Rumley and my wife, Linda, have taken a year off during the course of this long fight.

It is a mystery to me why Mr. Steve Dawkins is out to get POWER. After his attack in April, POWER contacted Mr. Dawkins to arrange a meeting to discuss his concerns. He has cancelled several times and on the last occasion when his secretary called to cancel, the message back to him was that he should choose a time and POWER would do everything we could to be available. We haven't received a call.

Please, let us focus our energy on RSI and on the issues. We won't win if the opposition falls apart just before the hearing.

David Noble, Limehouse
POWER director

Sizing Down

Empty Nesters will enjoy this efficient design, which offers all the comforts of home in a smaller package.

Enter into a spacious foyer brightened by an overhead skylight. To the right, a secondary bedroom, featuring a stylish bayed-out window seat, could also be used as a hobby room or home office. The kitchen boasts a practical working layout with ample cupboard and counter space and a pantry. Surrounding windows provide plenty of natural light to the nook. A half-wall provides a peek into the more formal living and dining area, which features a coffered ceiling in the dining room and an attractive bay window in the living room. The open plan design provides a comfortably large area for entertaining and relaxation.

The master bedroom, like those in larger homes, features a walk-in closet and a three-piece ensuite. An unfinished basement could be used for storage, or could be developed to provide spare bedrooms for the grandkids.

Plans for RV-571 may be obtained for $335 for a package of five complete sets of working prints and $29 for each additional set of the same plan. Allow $15 extra to cover the cost of postage and handling (B.C. residents add applicable sales tax to plan total). All Canadian residents add seven per cent GST to plan total plus postage and handling.

This is one of our new designs. Many innovative plans are now available in our NEW Rancher plan catalogue for $9.58 including postage and handling and seven per cent GST.
