Recycling for rural Acton

BY TIM MORGETROYD
 The Acton Tanner
 Councillor Rick Bonnette told Monday's Council a new "Igloo Recycling Depot" for rural areas west of Hwy. 7 will be operating in Acton by mid-September at no cost to the taxpayers.

Local farmers will now be able to recycle without travelling long distances, announced the councillor, who has been concerned for some time about farm areas being left out of the recycling program.

A minimum of three igloos will initially be set up on Churchill Road, next to the Acton Wastewater Treatment Plant laneway entrance, to recycle material now being collected in the curbside Blue Box program.

"This is a real advantage to people in rural areas," Coun. Bonnette told Council. "Some people in Acton can also use them (the recycling igloos) if their Blue Boxes are full, but this is primarily for rural areas."

Coun. Bonnette thanked Interprovincial Pipe Line Inc. for funding sponsorship of two igloos as part of the Halton Hills Public Works Department's "Adopt an Igloo" sponsorship program, and "two Regional staff members for pursuing my request" for more convenient rural recycling service.

The igloos cost $2,000 each, and formal sponsorship of the third igloo is expected soon, he said.

Apartment security: Follow these helpful guidelines

Many of our readers live in apartments in and around the community of Acton. Just as there are for homeowners, there are some important guidelines you can follow to protect yourself and your home from intruders. Here are a few suggestions to help you improve the security of your apartment or condo.

- Refer unknown persons seeking entrance to the superintendent. When the buzzer rings, do not release lobby doors until proper identification is made.
- Do not identify yourself on the callboard as a female living alone. First initials identify you.
- Equip your door with a quality deadbolt lock, chain and a wide-angle peephole.
- When going out, leave a radio playing, and when going on vacation, notify the superintendent.
