Firefighters' defence non-existent

The Acton Firefighters' offence showed up last Wednesday, but the defence left a little to be desired.

The local hockey Bants lost a wide-open 7-5 contest to Elora in Bantam I league play at the Community Centre.

Tim Bonus opened the Firefighters' scoring with assists handed to Jon Routledge and Aaron Forrest.

Gary Genzler scored later with help from Jason Pembleton to make it 2-2 after Period 1.

Matt Boycott and Jason Pembleton scored in the second period, which saw Elora outscore the hosts 3-2.

Assisting on the goals were Scott McIntyre and Steve White on Boycott's marker and Forrest set up Pembleton.

Trevor Malloy scored the Firefighters' fifth goal from Pembleton in the final frame.

White scored four goals during a Bantam exhibition match-up last Monday to power the Firefighters past the Brampton Selects in Brampton.

Also scoring were Marty McKinnon with three, Forrest,

Adam DaPonte and Chris Williams.

Matt Boycott led his team in assists with five. McKinnon chipped in with three, with singles recorded by Forrest, Pembleton, Genzler and Scott McIntyre.

The Firefighters' next home date is tonight (Wednesday) against Fergus. Game time at the Community Centre is 8:30.

Hurricanes grab 3 of 4 points

The Halton Major Atom Hurricanes hockey squad took two out of four possible points on the weekend as they tied Guelph and beat Brampton.

The squad, sponsored by Big Arn's Sports and Don Cherry's Restaurant, stormed into Brampton on Sunday and dominated the hosts en route to a 4-0 win, thanks to outstanding goaltending.

Acton's Joel Petkoff assisted on the Canes' third goal and then concluded his team's scoring later.

The Hurricanes will play two home games this weekend, hosting Welland on Saturday at the Gordon Alcott Arena at 2:30 pm and Chinguacousy at Hillsburgh Sunday. Game time is 4:15 pm.

Bruins a hungry team

Philly was the best draw in the league. When I coached the Colorado Rockies I remember Pat Quinn coming into Denver and we had 16,500 in the building and two thousand waiting outside to get in.

The "powers to be" who are now in the NHL, really don't like to hear the name Broad Street Bullies because it gives the league a bad image (honest). All I got to say is, "It's too bad that we don't have more teams like the Broad Street Bullies and the Big Bad Bruins." Maybe we wouldn't have half empty buildings at games.

I owe a debt of gratitude to the Bullies for winning the Cup. Harry Sinden wouldn't have fired Bep Guidelon and hired me to coach. I also owe Freddie Shero for showing me the way with the idea of tough men mixed in with talent, although some people say I went too far. Case in point: the Bruins were playing Buffalo and had been fined for something bad the team did the week before. It's in the third period and a couple of fights break out and John Wensink bites somebody. That's right, bites a player!

The player had to go for shots in the hospital. I know I'm in deep trouble, so I'm ready when the reporters come storming to me after the game. I remember the head writer for The Buffalo Courier, Dick Johnson, was just ripping mad. He screamed, "What kind of animals are you people, what do you think of your player biting another player?" I answered Dick with, "Well Dick, that's what I like, hungry hockey players." Cost me another two grand!

The latest addition came Saturday as the locals beat Elora 4-1 in a Tri-County Bantam D-Division contest in Elora for win No. 10.

Derrick McIntyre potted two goals. Adam Petch and Scott MacDonald also scored.

MacDonald and Shawn Monaghan had two helpers. Others went to Petch and Ryan Valente.

Sterling Luedee was simply sterling between the pipes.

In an exhibition contest at home last Monday, Greg Richmond's two goals helped the locals gain a 5-5 draw against Brampton.

MacDonald, Philip McIntyre and Derrick McIntyre also tallied.

Philip McIntyre was the assist leader with three, while brother Derrick contributed two. Singles went to MacDonald, Petch, Shawn Monaghan and Ryan Prueter.
