Golf Club, but the storm held off. "Actually we finished earlier than we had in previous years, and I never had a single complaint about the weather," said tournament chair John Hoare.

"The course really was in excellent shape as well."

At press time, Hoare was uncertain of the total money raised, but he did say that it could be a comparable total to last year, when $26,500 was raised.

The event was previously titled the Acton Cancer Society Golf Tournament before it was renamed in honour of Murr, one of the founding committee members. Murr passed away in 1988 after a battle with cancer.

Campbell was a big winner on the day. Campbell actually won two closest-to-the-pin competitions, sponsored by Air Canada and Bell Cellular. Campbell also was the winner of the low net competition.

Ted Ellis and Doug Gleed finished second and third in the low net scoring.

A number of golfers competed on the Trillium par-three layout, with Anne Moore taking home the honours with a low gross of 35.

The Guelph City Mazda longest drive contest went to Dan Thomas, while Brian Dolotowicz won the Susan Shoes longest-closest competition.

"Thanks to all our sponsors, too numerous to mention. And of course, the total cooperation of the participants," commented Hoare.

Woman forced off road

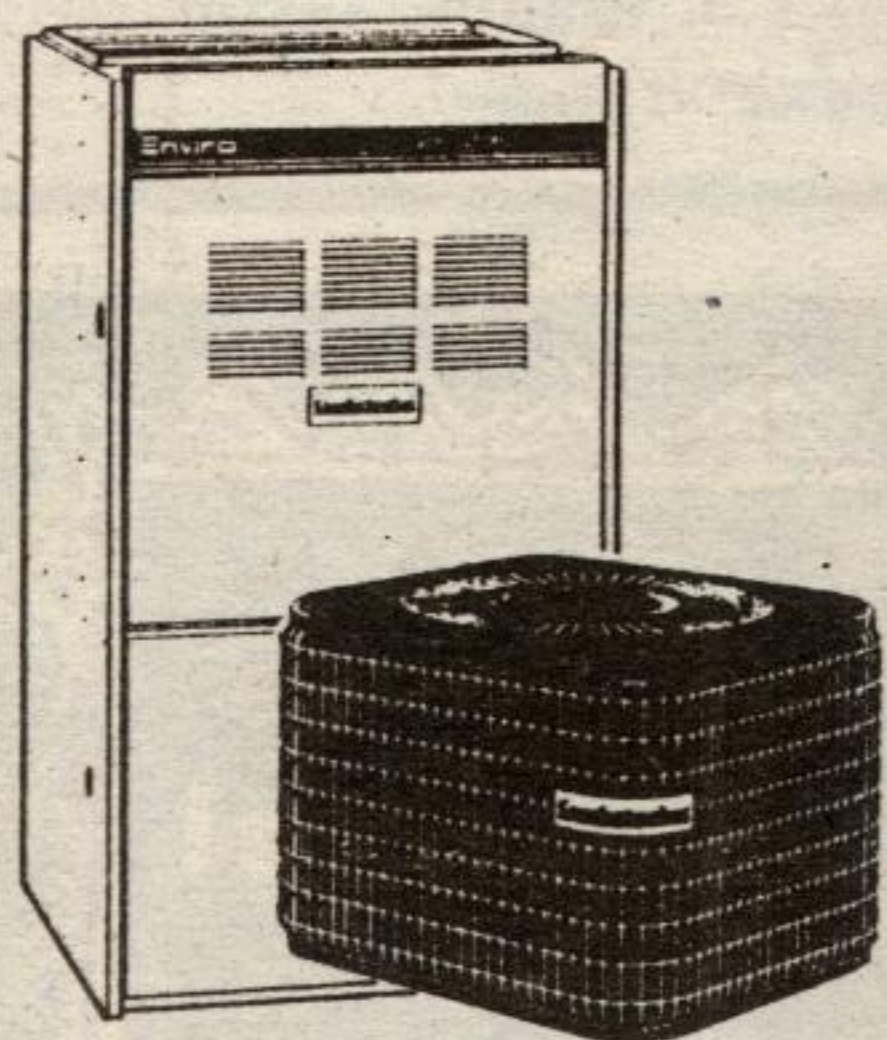

A 70-year-old woman was driving south on Trafalgar Road Saturday evening when she allegedly was forced off the road by a 25-year-old Acton man who had lost control of his '81 Camaro.

Police reports say the man was speeding north from Hwy. 7 when he lost control and skidded into the oncoming lane. No one was hurt in the incident, but the driver of the Camaro has been charged with racing on the highway.

Tools stolen from garage

Police are investigating a break-and-enter, which occurred on Crescent Street sometime between midnight and 10 am Sunday.

The thieves entered the unlocked single-car garage, located 30 feet behind the house, and took an assortment of tools including wrenches, sockets, screwdrivers and a power drill for a total estimated value of $2,000.

Because of the number and weight of the items, it is believed some sort of vehicle was used to transport the goods from the scene.

Driver damages church property

Police are looking for the driver of a white Ford Mustang after it smashed a wooden sign and drove through flower beds at the Acton Baptist Church on Mill Street Saturday at 6 pm.

Witnesses said the car was heading east when it left the road and knocked down the sign sitting in a small flowerbed, backed up into a flower pot, then took off heading south. The suspect is described as having a moustache and he was wearing a red hat.

Teen causes collision

A 17-year-old Campbellville youth drove through a stop sign at Wellington and Arthur Streets on Friday, colliding with a car driven by a 35-year-old Acton woman.

Police described damage to the youth's car, a 1983 Ford LTD registered to another owner, as severe, but no serious injuries were reported from the accident. The teenager was charged with running through a stop sign.
