

No action on reps

Halton Hills councillors will not consider giving up one representative on Halton Region Council.

A review of Regional government determined that, because of high population growth in the south of the Region, there should be more Regional Council representatives from the south.

The review suggests that Halton Hills, which now has five Regional Council members, should only have four.

Led by the three Acton councillors, who fear it will be the lone Acton representative that would be lost, Town Council voted Monday to take no action on the suggested changes but to review the Regional representation report following November's municipal election.

Staff to watch watering

Halton Hills staff will soon be enforcing Regional lawn watering restrictions.

For the first time in the water restriction's five-year history, Town staff, while doing their regular duties, will issue reminders to homeowners whenever a violation is observed, by putting a notice on the residence door handle.

Under Regional water-use restrictions, people living at even-numbered addresses can water only on even-numbered days and those at odd-numbered homes can only water on odd-numbered days.

United Way wraps up good year

In spite of the poor economy, the Halton Hills United Way exceeded its $180,000 fund-raising goal by almost $7,000 in 1993.

The United Way ran two fund-raising campaigns — Campaign East in Georgetown and Acton's Campaign West. Each campaign was headed by its own chair and carried out fund-raising programs aimed at meeting the specific needs of each community.

The committee met last summer and agreed to split the campaigns to accommodate the Acton-Georgetown competitive spirit.

"Robin Elliott ably took the chairperson's position for Campaign West," noted general campaign chair Bob Malcolmson in his campaign report at the annual general meeting last Wednesday.

"Robin and her committee, all from Acton, developed a positive approach and raised the awareness in the community by having a store front display."

The West team of Elliott, campaign chair David Pyke and Janet Goy helped the United Way get back on track in Acton.

The local United Way generated a revenue of $220,570 for the 1993-94 fiscal year. That was an increase of $23,570 over the amount forecasted after last year's campaign.

The cumulative surplus at the end of the year is $127,728, representing an increase of $40,980 over last year. Of this amount, $40,000 has been transferred to the reserve fund in past years to provide ongoing financing of the allocations and operations of the United Way and provide a contingency fund when campaign targets are not met.

United Way president John Oliver commended the efforts of Malcolmson and Elliott in his report. He feels through the efforts of past campaigns and in particular, the recent efforts of the pair, the United Way's fund-raising capacity has been strengthened.

"Under the leadership from Bob and Robin, the United Way has established a strong presence in both Georgetown and Acton. They have managed to recognize the distinct elements of our community and yet retain a central Halton Hills focus for the overall campaign," Oliver reports in his year-end report.

A successful project for the 1993 campaign was the eight-foot high thermometer in Acton. It was regularly updated throughout the October and November to highlight "rising" contributions.

Also, for the first time, the United Way participated in the Acton and Georgetown Santa Claus parades.

Pub night set for July 22

LEGION NEWS

BY JOYCE BUCHANAN

Just two tables for bridge this week and the winners were Dot Norton, Lil Cook and Kathleen Tolk. Where have all the bridge players gone?

Euchre had 17 tables and the winners were Herb Rowe, and Debbie McKnight. Tied for third were Dick Clement and Gord Aitken; tied for fourth were Jody Sheppard and Cassie Oldfield. Hidden score was John Chapman.

Saturday's meat draw winners were Early Birds Dave Thompson and Bill Taylor. Regular draws were Terry Winters, Ray Assinault, John Dryden, Mac Mackenzie, Al Kent, J.T. Hayes, Bradley Jordan, Dave Thompson, Wally Ferguson, Colin Baker, M. McCristall and George O'Donnell. The big draw winner was Tracey Ferguson.

Our new Entertainment Chairperson informs me we have a treat in store on Friday, July 22. We are going to have a Pub Night featuring Joe Simpson, whose specialty is sing-a-longs, with modern country, '40s and '50s music and other mixes. Make a date to be in the Branch by 9 pm for a fun night.

Up-and-coming is a corn roast set for mid-August. Keep an eye on the Bulletin Board.

We had a very good turnout for the Fireworks and Hot Dogs on Canada Day weekend. We are also serving hot dogs on Saturdays during the meat draw. If you feel like volunteering with the hot dogs or meat draw please come in and sign up.

Our sympathy goes out this week to Comrade George Williams in the passing of his wife Lil.

If I don't have your correct address and telephone number it's too late now as my listing is completed and a newsletter will be out shortly.

Have you visited the Branch lately and seen any changes? See you at the Branch.
