No-Stars now 11-0

Eleven and counting.

That's the win streak the 1994 edition of the Rockwood No-Stars Ladies' fastball team has compiled in an unblemished season.

On their home turf at Lloyd Dyer Park last Wednesday, the ladies played Brookville and won convincingly, 27-10.

The bats were in full swing as Leanne Smith and Laurie Leighton each collected round-trippers. Triples were recorded by Weber, Lori Savage, Holly Colquoun and Shelly Desjardins.

Sharing the work on the hill were Savage, Leighton and Desjardins.

Rockwood coach Dot Polo is quite pleased with her ladies' performance.

"The new players are really progressing and the veterans are coming through with key hits and catches," she praises. "We have a versatile pitching staff, which has definitely been an asset."

The local ladies travel to Westover tomorrow (Thursday), but return to Lloyd Dyer for a match against Sheffield next Wednesday. Game time is 8:30 pm.

Acton cyclist heading to Commonwealth Games

BY DOUG HARRISON
The Acton Tanner

Tim Hadfield was part of the Ontario team that won a gold medal recently at the Canadian National Track Cycling championships in Calgary. Later, he added a personal best time of 52 minutes, 19 seconds in the 40-kilometre individual time trial event at the road nationals in Edmonton.

TIM HADFIELD

And that, in one sense, is the bad news.

The good news came when the 22-year-old Acton cyclist was notified he'd been selected to compete in the Commonwealth Games in Victoria, B.C., in late-August.

"He placed fairly well (in both Calgary and Edmonton), but didn't medal in other events," said his mother, Pauline Hadfield, on Monday. She added Tim finished either tied for third or fourth in the points standings.

"Politics always comes into play, so you never know what cyclers the Commonwealth Games selection committee is going to pick, unless you're first or second," Pauline continued.

Only seven weeks ago, Tim broke the iliac crest in his left hip and six ribs riding in a 65km international road race in Nagoya, Japan.

Just three weeks after the incident, a quick-healing and determined Tim was riding a stationary bike for an hour. In late June, he spent two weeks with the provincial team in Allentown, Pennsylvania for short distance, but intense, training on the track.

He came home just days before the Canadian National finals and seemed optimistic of his chances to ride in Victoria. His parents (father Richard), though, didn't seem to share the same feeling.

"The announcement was more a relief than anything," said Pauline. "At the beginning of the season he was riding strong, but after the accident I wasn't confident he would be selected."

"But he deserves it. He's put a lot into it and it's not easy. To place that well in Calgary after an injury says a lot."

She added Tim approached the director of the Commonwealth Games selection committee after being notified and told him he appreciated their confidence in him, despite a recent setback.

"We're going out there (to Victoria)," Pauline said, "to obviously cheer on the Canadians, but it's nice when your son's in it."

Andy's starts slow, wins pair

Andy's Peewee hardball team had sluggish starts in both their games last week. Luckily, their opponents followed suit and a more powerful Andy's lineup had time to warm up and eventually outduel their opponents.

The locals left the bases loaded in the first inning in Brookville on Thursday, but did manage to score a run from Adam Ahearn.

Starter Sandy Chapman then mowed down the home team 1-2-3 via strikeouts.

Andy's made it 4-0 in the third as Paul Kerins, Travis Stewart and Ronny McCaslin (home run on a triple and an error) scored. They padded their lead to 7-0 in their next at-bat as Chris Scully homered.

Joe Field and Matt Bodin also scored. Bryan Boyko collected an RBI.

After Brookville hit the board, Andy's mustered four of their own as Chapman and Scully brought home Kerins, Stewart, Ahearn and Steve Forbes.

Andy's slow start was a carry over from last Tuesday's contest in Campbellville, eventually won 7-3 by Andy's.

Campbellville led 1-0 after two frames, despite Scully fanning three batters.

In the third, Wayne Hopkins scored Joey Thompson to knot the game 1-1. Scully then struck out another two to hold the home side.

Andy's broke the game open with three-run fourth as McCaslin, Ahearn and Scully scored. Bodin doubled home two.

Up 4-3 entering the seventh, Andy's struck for three runs with Bodin, Stewart and Thompson crossing the plate.

In the bottom of the inning, Ahearn struck out two salt the game away.

HH Furniture beats Glen 'A' 20-17

The Halton Hills Furniture and Appliances Girls' softball outfit beat Glen Williams "A" 20-17 last Wednesday in the Glen.

Triples by Jaime Crabtree, Paige Killock and Teri McCaslin highlighted the offence for the locals.

In the field, Kendra Ashley and Chrystal Henry shone.
