

ECP wants new blood at Oct. meeting

The monthly meeting for the Eramosa Community Players is coming up next Tuesday (Oct. 4) and executive member Avril Winchester says "we need some new blood!"

The ECP will be losing some of its key executive members over the next few months, so it's more important than ever to add enthusiastic bodies.

"We're always looking for new people," Winchester assures.

"The lovely thing about theatre is that no one ever asks you what you do for a living or what you earn. The friendships one makes really do cut across all boundaries, including age."

The ECP, which has staged such hugely successful events as Spirit of Shivarree and this summer's If Stones Could Speak, will hold its October meeting in the basement at the Rockmosa community hall. Time for the gathering is 7:30.

For info, readers can call Susan Gailer at 856-1161.

And remember: "Experience is not necessary."

SKIPPING FOR TERRY!

Lyndi Young, 7, left, and Amanda Jamieson, 6, enjoyed skipping under the sun on Rockwood Centennial's blacktop on Friday. The two Grade 2 students were participating in Activities for Terry Fox to help raise money for cancer research. Each of the school's 535 students paid $1 and involved themselves in such events as skipping, floor hockey, volleyball, soccer, basketball and a walk through the Rockwood Conservation Area. The school was hoping to raise over $600. (Doug Harrison photo)
