The Halton Minor Pee wee Hurricanes competed in the Don Mills Flyers tournament over the Christmas holidays, but were winners in only one of three games.

Their best result came in the final matchup, a slim 2-1 verdict over the Richmond Hill Kings.

Trailing 1-0 late in the third, Acton's Joel Petkoff assisted on a Halton goal for the equalizer.

The Hurricanes continued to press and, with just 56 seconds remaining, Petkoff faked a shot from close range and then passed the puck across the ice. A teammate at the point tapped the puck passed the Kings netminder.

In their other two games, Halton was soundly defeated 9-2 by the Toronto Red Wings and blanked 5-0 by the Detroit Little Ceasars.

Petkoff, who earned MVP honours against the Red Wings, scored both Cane goals. He blew past two Red Wings defenders and made a nice deke to knot matters at 2-2.

Meanwhile, in league action prior to Christmas, Halton lost its third game of the season, 5-4.

Petkoff picked up one assist. The Hurricanes play this Saturday in Brampton against Chinguacousy at 1:30 pm.

THE WRATH OF GRAPES

WITH
DON CHERRY

Like open-net goals

Well, the Bobby Millar incident sure was one of my most embarrassing moments as an NHL coach. As I told you last week, we left the rookie's name off the lineup sheet before a game against New York — Bobby's first game as a Bruin. When I had to tell him to head to the dressing room just as the game had started, he pleaded "But why, Grapes? What did I do wrong?"

Frosty, our trainer had been making out the starting lineup and the lineup for a zillion years; he just slipped up and I didn't check it close enough, so we were one man short for the game.

The reporters had fun with that one and to say Harry Sinden was not amused is an understatement. The one thing I couldn't understand was why my buddy, New York Islander coach Al Arbour, reported me to the ref.

I have to tell you — I've caught coaches making mistakes in their lineups and told I've always told them about it. If I have to resort to cheap stuff like that to win, forget it! It's almost like Brett Hull won't score on an open net. As Brett says, "That's for cheapies." Got to tell you, though, it sure was embarrassing.
