Large garbage drop at Rockmosa Saturday

Saturday is 'get rid of your large junk day' for residents of Rockwood, as Eramosa Township holds its fourth garbage drop-off day.

Some 900 village residents, who received special coupons in last month's hydro bill, are eligible to drop off their large waste at Rockmosa from 8 am to 1 pm.

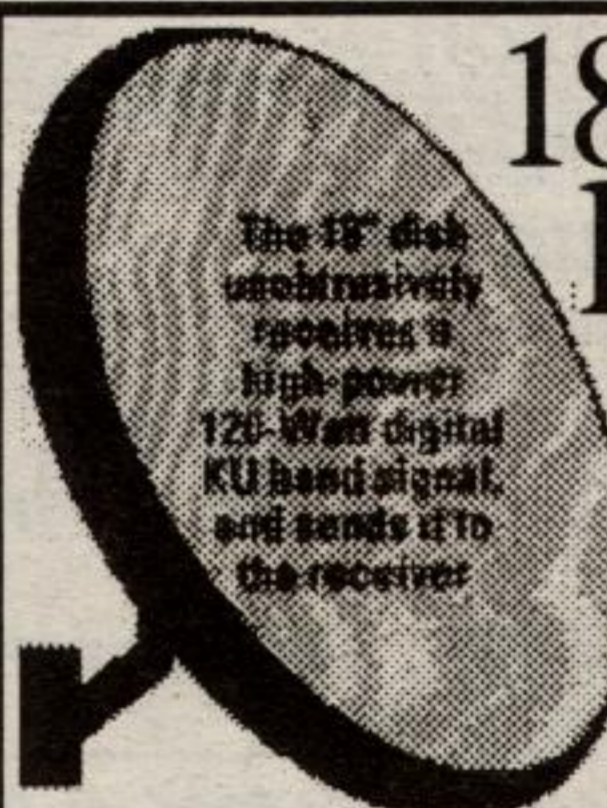

Organizer Mike Maas expects to see a lot of old electric furnaces. "Now that Union Gas has come to the village, I bet we'll see a lot of old hot water heaters and old electric equipment."

"We usually see a lot of junk, but sometimes one person's junk will be another's treasure, although 90 per cent of the stuff dropped off ends up at the Guelph landfill site."

"We will take just about everything, except car tires, paint, batteries, oil or solvents," Maas said.

In Eden Mills the large garbage curb pick up is Monday, May 15.

Candidates hit campaign trail

Wellington Family Coalition Party (FCP) candidate Dr. John Neenan intends to cut back on government spending if he's elected over incumbent MPP Ted Arnott in the June 8 provincial election.

The 30-year family practitioner, who resides in Kitchener, says education and economy are the province's main issues.

"The economy is biting into everybody's problems, because we all know we're up against it," says Dr. Neenan, a member of the Canadian Physicians for Life group, who ran for the FCP in 1987 and '90. "There's no restriction in government spending and the debt is increasing exponentially. If we don't do something, it will be inherited by our children."

"We feel people are not able to control how children are educated, so we will find schools which will be delegated by the Ministry to people who want their own form of education."

Neenan, a father of four, has his office at 751 Victoria St. S. in Kitchener. The phone number is (519) 743-1041.

Arnott, meanwhile, looks to build upon the 1990 election, in which he grabbed 109 of the 191 total polls (57 per cent).

At 32, he's the youngest member of the current P.C. caucus at Queen's Park. He also serves as vice-chair of the Standing Committee on Estimates and as a member of the Standing Committee on General Government.

Arnott has offices in Fergus and Arthur. The Fergus office is next to the Fergus Library at 184 St. Andrew St. W. The telephone number is (519) 787-9938. Office hours (closed Sundays) are 10 am to 8 pm Monday to Friday and Saturdays from 10 am to 5 pm.

Arnott's Arthur campaign office is located beside the Arthur Cenotaph at 124 George St. The telephone number is (519) 848-6444 and toll free 1-800-850-7398. Office hours (closed Sundays) are 10 am to 8 pm Monday to Friday and 10 am to 5 pm on Saturday.

New Democratic Party candidate Elaine Rogala has her office in the lower level at 135 St. David St. S. in Fergus. The telephone number is (519) 843-5375. Fax is 843-5649. There's also a sub-office in Belwood (519) 843-5210; 843-4552 (fax).

Living in rural Belwood with her partner, John, Rogala worked in 1970 to elect Alan Blakeney, the NDP Premier of Saskatchewan.

Liberal candidate Don Ross, 52, operates a dairy, beef and cash crop business near Palmerston.

He was chair of the Wellington County Board of Education from 1991 to 1994, and trustee from '88-'91. Ross, who has two daughters with his wife Brenda, is currently director of the Wellington Federation of Agriculture and former director of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

He can be reached at 1-800-365-ROSS.
