

St. John's hosts Pub Night on June 16

Now this sounds like fun!

St. John's Anglican Church is planning an English Pub Night at the church hall on Friday, June 16. The affair will run from 8 pm until 1 in the morning.

"We've never done anything like this before and we wanted to try something different," explains organizer Jane Thatcher.

Thatcher says that not only church members are invited to the pub. "All members of the community are most welcome."

There is no admission charge, and wine, beer and "pub grub" — provided by La Vieille Auberge — will be sold at reasonable prices.

A genuine pub atmosphere will be fostered at the event, featuring darts, cards and music.

"It's not really a major fundraiser for us — we just wanted to put together a community event," explains Thatcher.

"Many of our members are of British origin, and with La Vieille Auberge catering, the food should be good."

If the Pub Night is successful, Thatcher says there may be another one planned for October.
