New faces on staff at Acton High

As the new school year approaches for Acton High School students (everyone is expected to report to their Period 1 class at 8:40 am on Tuesday, Sept. 5) five new staff members are gearing up for their new responsibilities.

Science teacher KARL DAHLINGER comes to Acton from White Oaks in Oakville where he taught Physics and Chemistry. Mr. Dahlinger plays keyboard in a blues band and he also enjoys wilderness camping.

SHARON FRENCH makes a return to Acton High where she has taught Art and English. Mrs. French comes to Acton from Lord Elgin in Burlington where she was head of Arts. Her hobbies include aerobics, jogging, skiing and photography.

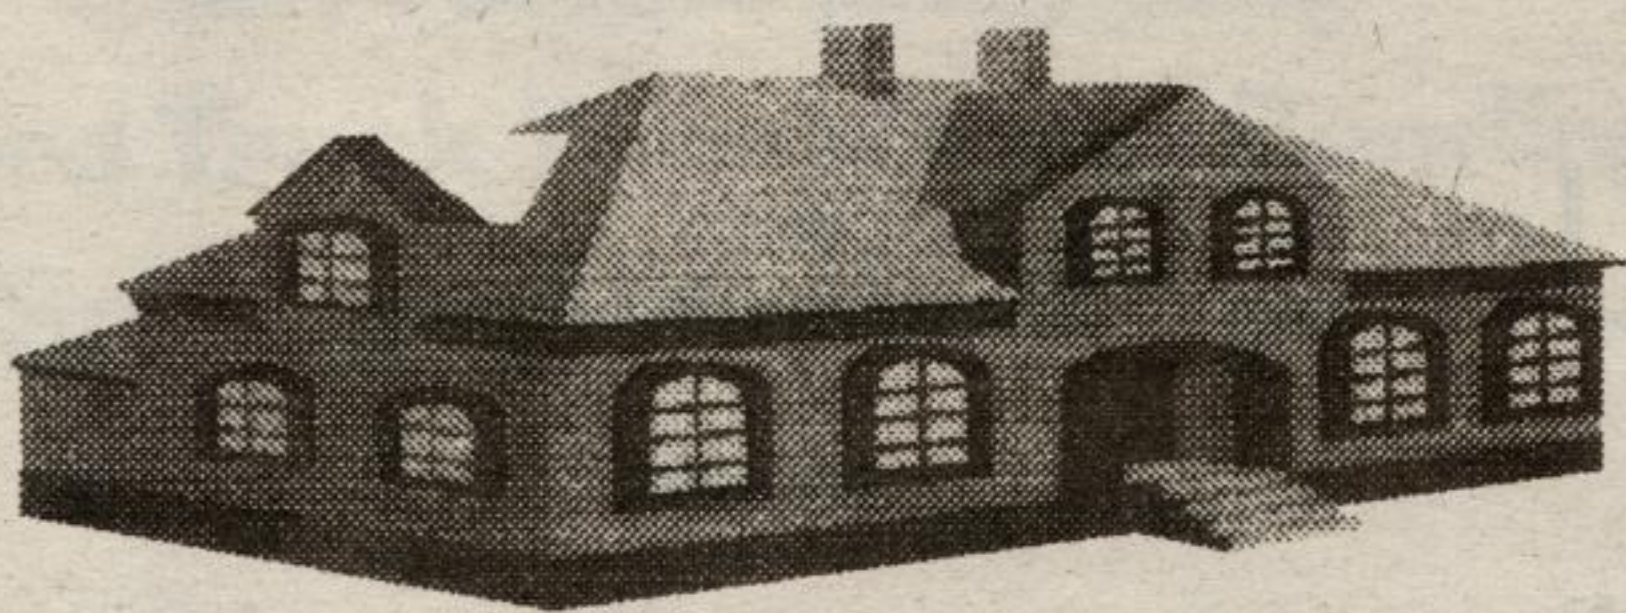

SHELLY LINDSAY comes to AHS as part of the secretarial allotment temporarily replacing a secretary on maternity leave. Mrs. Lindsay will work out of the main office in the morning and in the Resource Centre in the afternoon. Shelly is an antique buff who also enjoys gardening.

CHRISTINE ROGAN is a co-op student from the University of Waterloo. She is in her final work term and will teach Math. Christine enjoys water sports and skiing.

GARY SIEBERT returns to Acton High to teach Math, Science and Special Education in Semester 1. Mr. Seibert was last at Acton in 1990. Gary is very active in Little Theatre productions.
