Jr. Redmen advance

Bruce Andrews expected a surging Iroquois Ridge Junior Girls' volleyball unit to come out tough in a Halton high school playoff battle at Acton High on Thursday.

They did, but the Redmen were up for the task.

After splitting the first two games 15-6, 3-15, the Redmen covered better and used their superior serving skills to prevail 15-7 in the deciding match.

A drill the Redmen worked on the last half of the regular season has turned their season around.

Players serve at two teammates who have to get the ball up and attack. Their objective is putting five balls over the net.

"The success rate started at 20 to 30 per cent, but it's now around 80," says Redmen coach Andrews. "The girls are moving the ball better and are more confident."

Jr. cagers finish 1-7

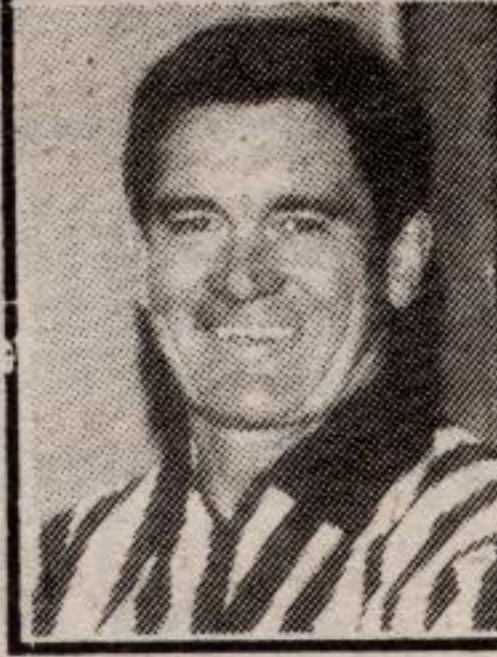

Notorious all season for third-quarter breakdowns, it again cost the Acton Redmen Junior Boys' basketball team, which closed the Loyola Hawks lead to single digits last Tuesday in the dying minutes of an eventual five-point loss at Acton High.

"Eighty per cent of our games this year were like that. We would win three quarters," Redmen coach Ron Birrell says of his 1-7 club, whose playoff hopes were dashed.

"Our outside game was good, but we weren't as strong inside, in terms of rebounding."

Consistent Redman Chris Young poured in over 20 points.

Travel is always front and centre!

Going on a vacation is one of the common denominators of life. So when the news reports there is a problem of illness at a southern resort, a plane crash off the coast of another country in the Caribbean, or news of a new cut-rate airline starting up in Western Canada later this month - it's the talk of the town, and rightly so!

Travel for some is just a dream while for others it is a decision of, "Where are we going to go next?" For people in both areas there is much to talk about, dream about and do. If someone wins a lottery, their first announcement generally (after paying off the mortgage!) is to announce a vacation - that dream comes true!

People who have had an illness similar to that which was reported this past week at a resort in Mexico will have vivid not-pleasant memories. Fortunately Signature Vacations acted quickly and got the people affected home as soon as possible, and have put a compensation package together for them. Also fortunate is the fact Mexico has not had that image for the past few years - the "Montezuma's Revenge" factor, as a tremendous amount of cleanup has taken place, especially with drinking and cooking water.

"Westjet Launches its New Low-Cost Approach" is what the headline stated as a new carrier in Western Canada announced startup at the end of February. Low, low fares such as $69. Calgary-Edmonton are forecast and you can bet all travellers are asking about them. There have been other "startup" airlines announced in the past which have not quite made it to the tarmac but this one seems to be going to make it - initially, at least. Will Eastern Canada be next? Wait and see - the big guys, AC and CAI, say they will price match...

Here's one for you - a temperature guarantee! Where else but BERMUDA, of course! One of our most popular destinations - the Princess and Southampton Princess are two places taking part. Through March you get 20 per cent off your room rate any day the temperature doesn't reach 68 degrees Fahrenheit (about 19 Celsius). You get free transportation and admission to many cultural attractions for the same reason.
