

EASTER CRAFTS!

Three new postcards of Guelph's downtown around the year 1900 are now available from the Guelph Civic Museum.

One postcard contains an image of a bustling St. George's Square with streetcars of the Guelph Railway.

Another card shows John Galt's home, built in 1827, being used as the Canadian Pacific Railroad Station.

The third postcard shows the J. & A. Tyson butcher shop with beef, goats, chickens, rabbits and even a bear, all festooned with Christmas decorations.

All three images are from the photo collection of the Guelph Civic Museum.

The postcards are available from the Museum and retail at 75¢ each. Phone 836-1221 for details.

The Big Scoop Café

The Big Scoop is definitely not just an ice cream parlour – as many Acton and area residents already have discovered, they're also famous for great homemade burgers and country fries.

Owner Heather Knapton-Allan, an interior designer by trade, explains that "we strive to give excellent quality food fare at a reasonable price with tremendous atmosphere." Whether you're in need of a great cup of java and a chat, a quick meal in their musical courtyard or an indulgence from their extensive ice cream venue, you'll have a great time at the Big Scoop Café!

Heather and her friendly staff are always happy to serve you, so drop by today!
