

ASSIC presents plays, drug information session

ASSIC ALERT

Live theatre is returning to Acton this fall, when the SMILE Theatre presents a series of three new musicals. SMILE is a professional theatre group based in Toronto and we welcome them for this return engagement. Proceeds from tickets sales support community services provided by ASSIC.

The Governor's Lady will be presented on Oct. 15 and is the story of Elizabeth Simcoe, wife of the first Lieutenant Governor of Upper Canada. Feb. 19 is the date for Me and My Bike, a story about adventures in rural Ontario in 1897, as recorded by the Weekly Sun writer, W.A. Smith. Fred and Adele is the final play in the series. A celebration of the early years of Fred and Adele Astaire. This play will be presented on April 10, 1997.

Showtime for all three performances is 7:30 pm at Acton High School. Tickets are $7 each or $15 for the set of three. Tickets are available as ASSIC, 19 Willow St. N. For further details, call ASSIC at 853-3310.

Local pharmacists Bill Yundt and Gary Barton will hold an information session on Sept. 30 at 2 pm to answer your questions about drugs and drug benefits.

Would you like to know more about the services local pharmacies offer, or what information your pharmacy needs to know about you? What is the difference between generic and name brand drugs? Do you want to know more about the new government legislation or find out what drugs are covered by benefits? Don't miss this opportunity to ask questions and gain information! The information session will be held at the Acton Seniors' Centre, Prospect Park Arena and is sponsored by ASSIC. Call 853-3310 for more information.

A Member of Halton Hills United Way
