

Busy meeting for I.O.D.E.

LAKESIDE I.O.D.E.

BY DOT NORTON

Our Christmas meeting was in the form of a Christmas dinner, catered by the Knox Presbyterian Ladies' Aid. A bountiful and delicious meal of turkey with all the trimmings was enjoyed by our 13 members.

Joyce Sprowl, our bazaar convenor, gave a report on our most successful bazaar to date, held in November. Joyce reported that she has sent thank you notes to all the people who helped our members the day of the bazaar.

Emily Savage, winner of the Clara Grindley Bursary Award, sent the Chapter a thank you note. Helen presented Emily with the award at her Commencement.

Rosealee read a letter from our adopted school at Inuvik. A motion to send them $50 was made by Mary McKenzie and seconded by Betty Oakes.

It was moved by Helen Otterbein and seconded by Ernestine Foster that we give $500 to the Salvation Army for Christmas hampers and $50 to the Legion for the Remembrance Day wreath.

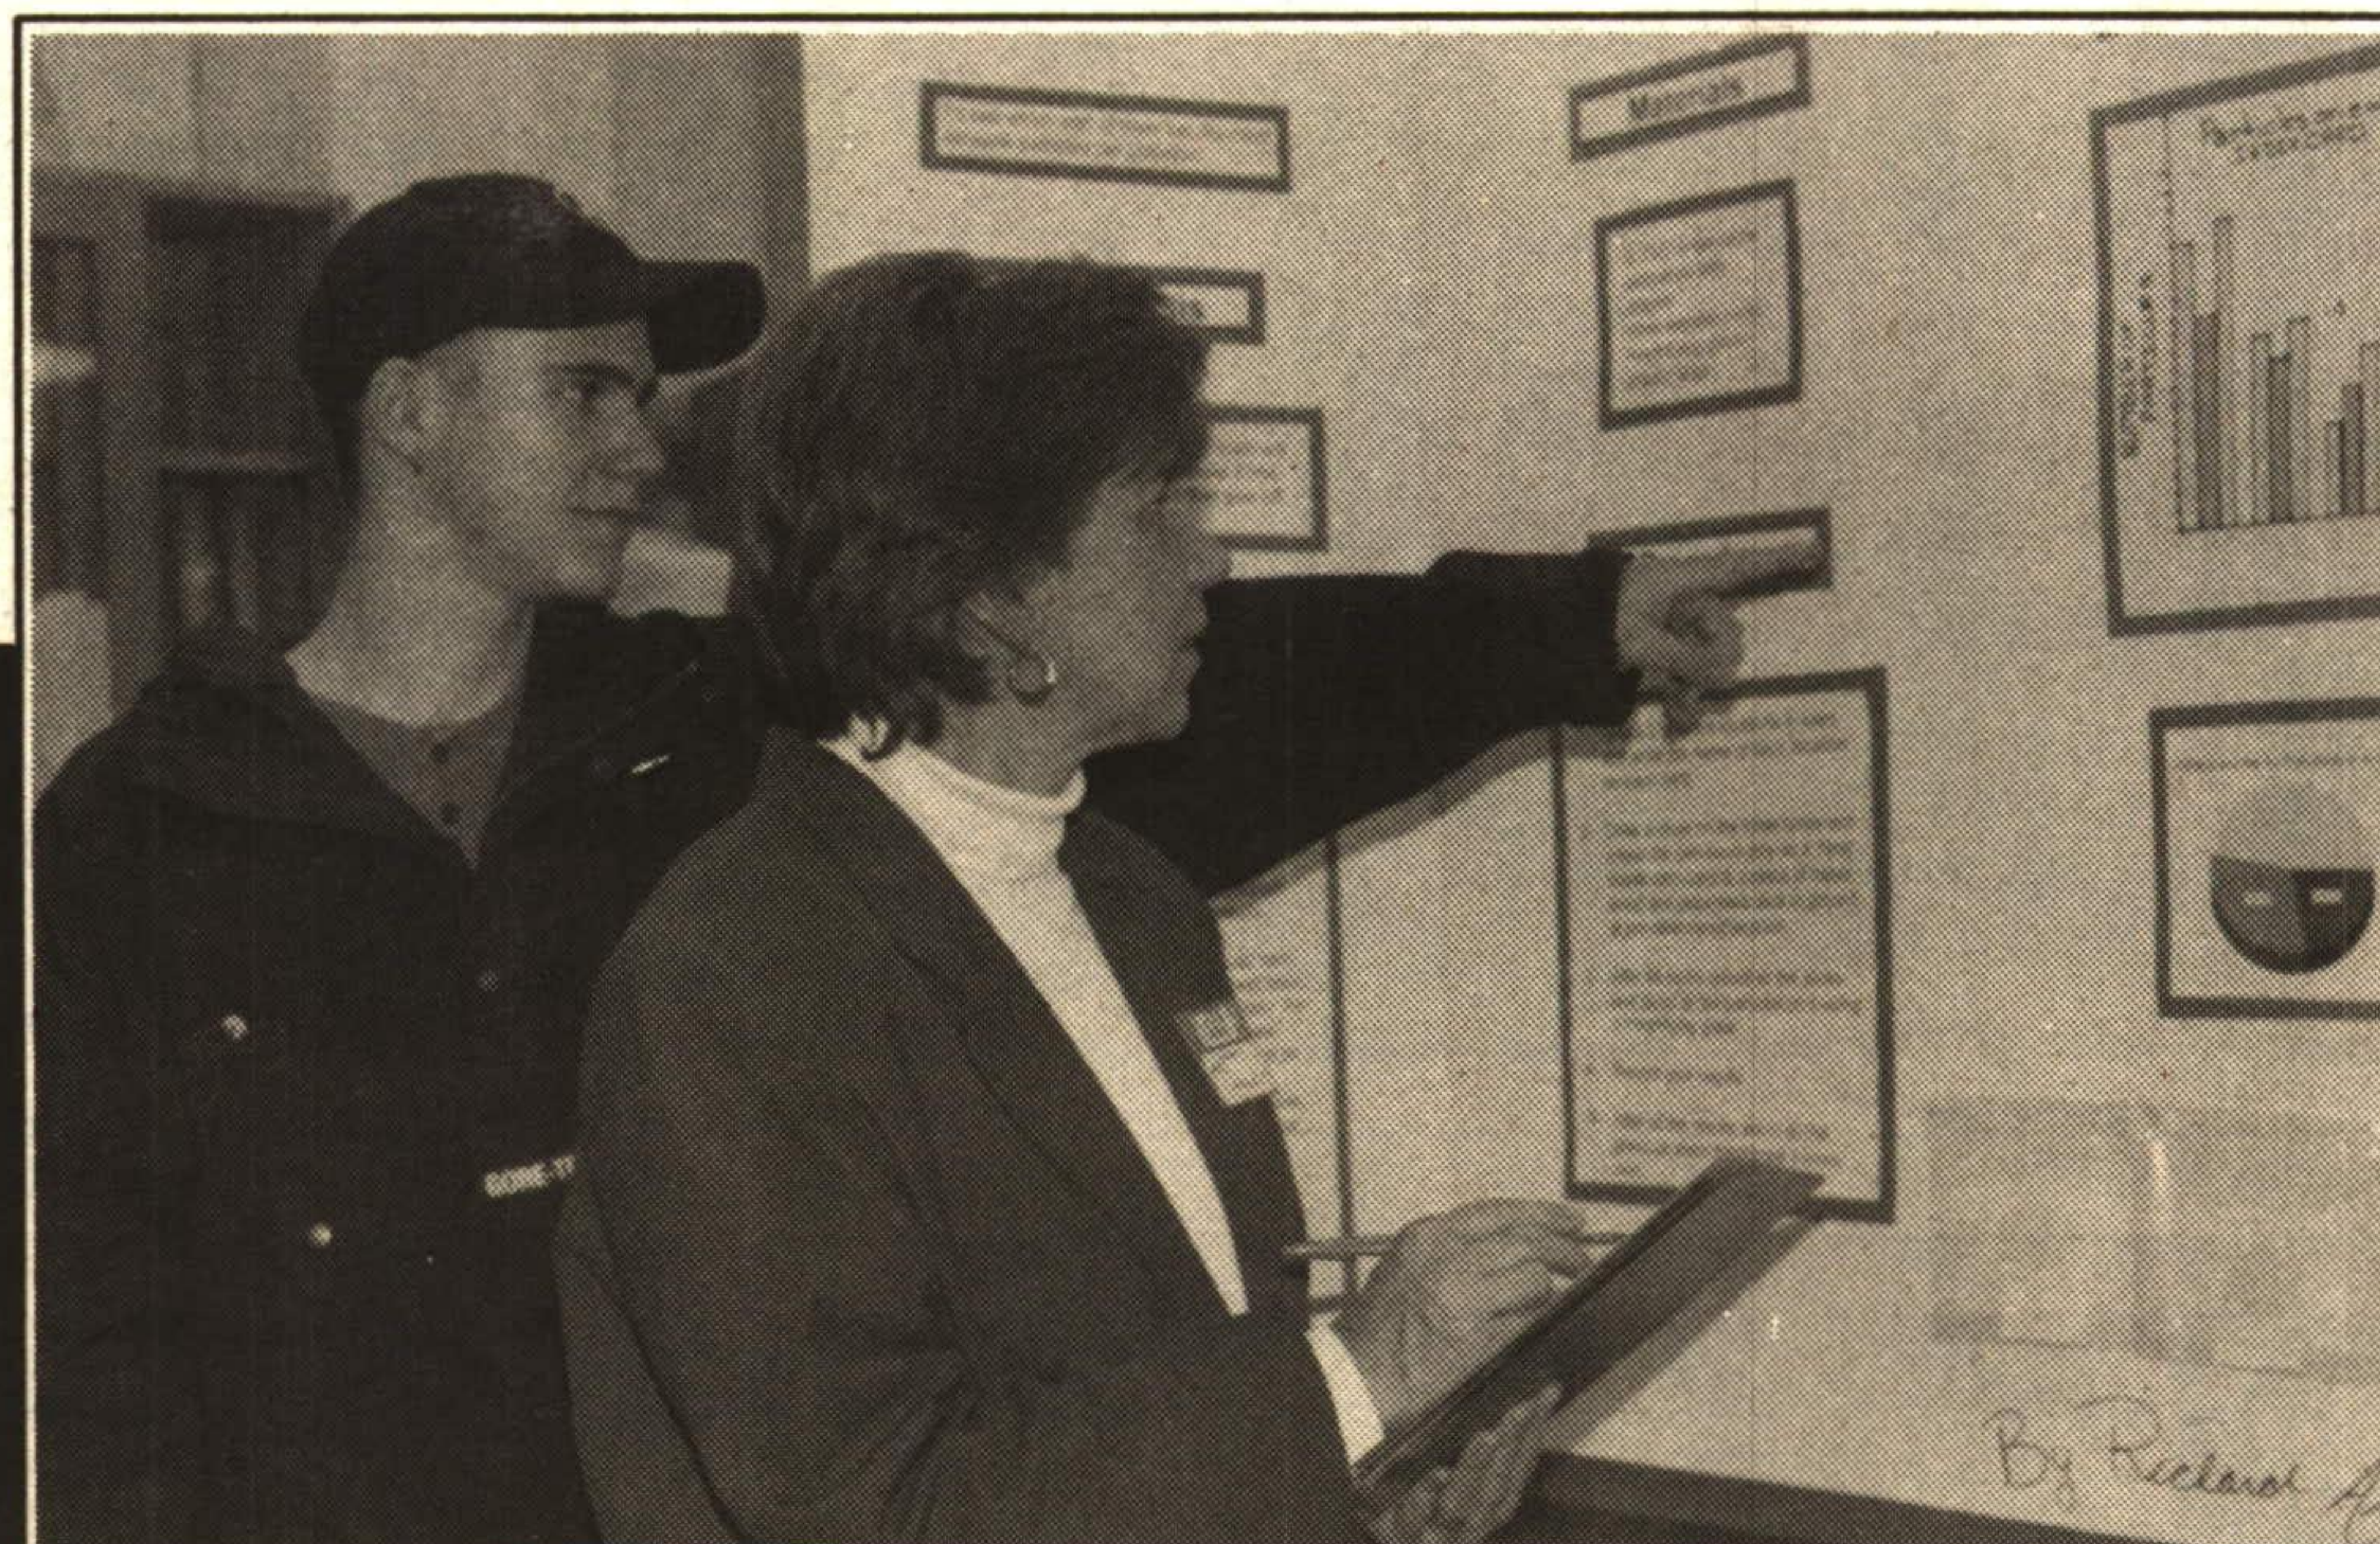

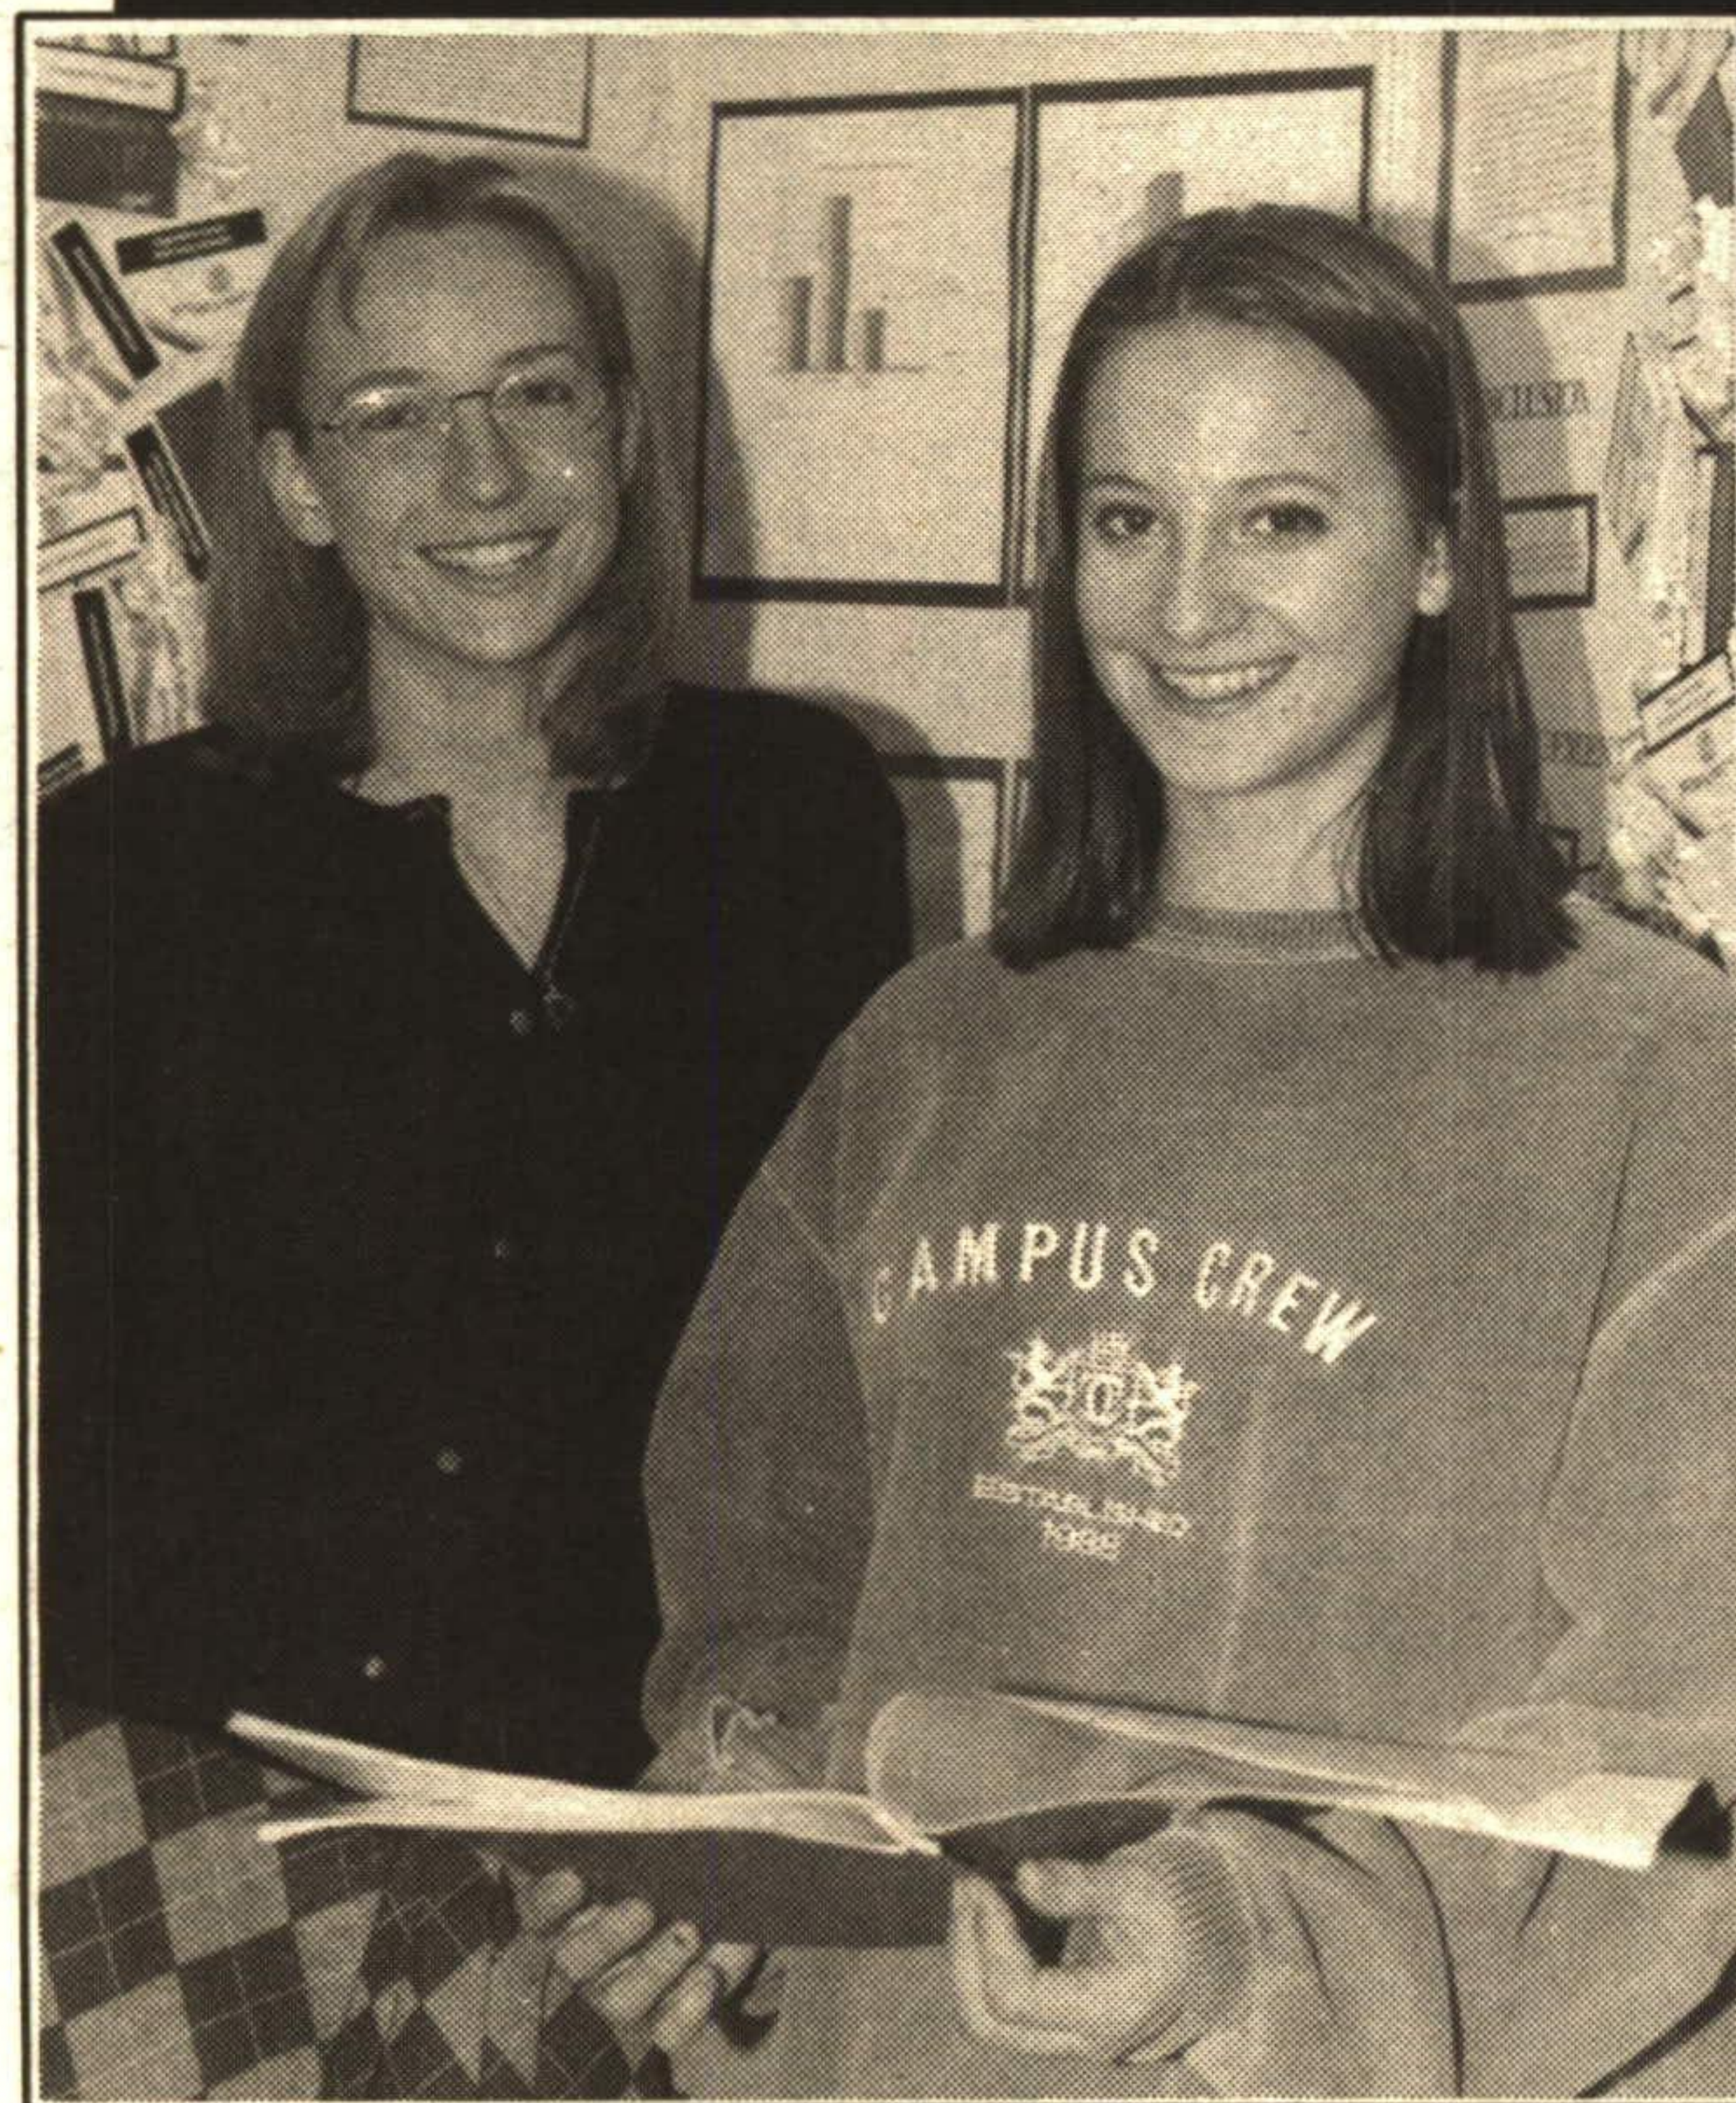

Our Regent showed us the new plaque to be placed on the service groups sign on the outskirts of town, replacing the previous plaque, broken by vandals. Ernestine will take the new plaque home to have a frame made, to help strengthen it.

Joyce reminded members helping with the Christmas hampers, to be at the old Fire Hall at 10 am this Saturday.

INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY: COMMUNITY NEWSPAPERS

Wicklow Hills Publishing Co. Inc., publishers of The Acton Tanner, House & Home Real Estate Journal and The Georgetown Gemini, has announced its intention to establish community-owned newspapers in Brampton and Milton. Wicklow Hills invites investment inquiries from individuals or companies who:

- are interested in owning a community newspaper, based on an Acton Tanner model;
- would like to receive all required training (editorial policy, advertising management, etc.);
- would like to own a turn-key, profitable newspaper operation that has established its market, its revenue base and its management system;
- believe that their community needs another voice to bring balance to editorial and advertising;
- would like to share in national advertising revenue distributed in all Wicklow Hills publications;
- understand that sharing costs with other community newspapers contributes to everyone's bottom line.

Wicklow Hills will bring all of this to you if you are appointed to own the rights to Brampton or Milton.
