Harvesting and Steam Power

In years gone by, the Steam Engine was King in Nassagaweya. The best season was a time of high excitement, as the big men scurried about preparing huge meals for work gangs as they returned from the fields. When these wonderful machines were gradually phased out, a Reunion was held in the early sixties at the Les Lowe farm. Magnificent machines brought to the rural lifestyle of Nassagaweya. Many Steam Engines can still be viewed in working order.
