CRAMP, STEWART

It is with deep regret the family announces the sudden passing of Stewart Cramp of Campbellville on Wednesday August 12th, 1998. He is survived by his wife Vivian Elizabeth, son Brian and his wife Hilary of Brampton, Brenda and husband Don of Brampton, Sharon of Terra Cotta and granddaughters Caitlin and Taylor. He is also survived by his sister Jean and her husband Tom Mitchell of Milton, brothers Art and his wife Jeanie of Heffley Creek, B.C., Garnet and his wife Isabelle of Owen Sound, Gord and his wife Merle of Dawson Creek, B.C., Doug and his wife Donna of Port Hope, sisters Joan and husband Norman Spears of Meaford and Helen and her husband Louie Oldfield of Oakville and sister-in-law Karen Cramp of Tiverton. Predeceased by his youngest brother Bill. Stew came to Campbellville in 1944 when his father bought the corner store. Stew made deliveries by truck to the countryside on Tuesdays and Thursdays until the store was sold. As a teenager, Stew sang in the choir of St. David's Church in Campbellville. He went on to serve a few terms as manager of the church, where he was very involved on the committee to build the present manse. He was very active in politics for many years, serving multiple terms as village trustee. Often meetings were held in the basement of his own home. Stew has been a member of the Masonic Lodge since he was 21 and moved through the chairs to become Master of Campbell Lodge in 1966 and presently held the office of Chaplain. He adored his three children and his 2 granddaughters who fortunately all lived close by. Stew was a very good amateur carpenter and was very helpful to his family between travels. He will be sadly missed by all. Funeral Service was held on Saturday August 15th from St. David's Church, Campbellville followed by interment in the Church Cemetery. Arrangements through the J. Scott Early Funeral Home, 21 James St. Milton.
