Thomas J. Wheeler was always a public spirited member of the community. An article in the Georgetown Herald c.1900 notes "Record-breaking Secretary: Public School Board - 20 years; High School Board - 1 years; Masonic Lodge - 18 years; Oddfellows - 24 years; St. George's Parish - 27 years. He died in 1910 and is buried in Georgetown Cemetery." There is a stain glass window at St. George's Anglican church in memory of T.J.

His son, Thomas Alexander Wheeler, married Martha Grant of Acton. She was employed at the Glove Factory. They lived in Toronto, where T.A. was employed as a travelling salesman for a typewriter company. They had three children. Edna married Wilfrid Frost of Toronto. Their daughter Ruth and her husband George Gorrod worked for Bell Telephone in Toronto, Peterborough and Stoney Lake. They have children Grant and Janice. Wilma married Charles Barker and they lived in Oakville.

Thomas Ralph married Ada Warbey of Milton when he was working at the Toronto Carpet Co. They settled in Milton where Tom was employed first at Harrop's Park Farm Dairy and later at P.L. Robertson Mfg. Co. They celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 1978. Their daughter Marie Wheeler married Jim Murray of Milton and had children, Lynne, Richard and Brent. Daughter Myrna Wheeler married Douglas Turner and lives in Mississauga, they have two children, Steven and Bonnie.

T.A.'s brother J. Charles Wheeler married Euphemia Shortreed Wooding of the Scotch Block. He learned the printing trade as an apprentice in the office of the Georgetown Herald, then worked for the Orangeville Banner and later with Atwell Fleming Printing Co. in Toronto. Their son Thomas James became managing editor of the Toronto Daily Star and Star Weekly. At the time of his mother's death in 1947, he was head of a newspaper syndicate.
