The Value of a "Smile"

It costs nothing, but creates much.

It enriches those who receive it, without impoverishing those who give it.

It happens in a flash, but the memory of it sometimes lasts forever.

It cannot be begged, borrowed, or stolen but it is of no earthly good to anyone, until it's given away!

So if in your hurry, you run across someone too weary to smile, leave one of yours!

Because no one needs a smile as much as he who has none to give.

Blooming beautiful Halton Hills

By DEBORAH QUAIL

The heat was extreme, but the skies were clear as Halton Hills opened its gardens, highways and pathways to the judges for Communities in Bloom on July 31. Mayor Kathy Gastle, Manager of Parks and Cemeteries Warren Harris, and judges Norm Duncan and Luc Dethier spent the day on the road examining the heritage, floral displays, and work-in-progress during the day of judging. The numerous stops included Willow Park and the Lucy Maud Montgomery Garden/Garden of the Senses in Norval, Glen Williams' shops and cemetery, Georgetown fairgrounds and homes, and Acton's Laura Dietrich Gardens and Naturalizing Area.

The crew stopped at Limehouse Memorial Hall for lunch and a COGECO interview, where Mary Shier welcomed the visitors with a presentation about the history of the building and local lime kilns. Photo displays of the kilns, as well as other activities that take place at the hall were available for viewing, such as shots of Pumpkinfest, Bruce Trail

Day, and the Pancake Breakfast.

Ms. Shier believes that Limehouse is the "hidden jewel of Halton Hills," with the large deposits of limestone along the Niagara Escarpment adding to its beauty. She told the judges that future plans include interpretive signage, protection from the elements, and then reconstruction of the lime history in the area.

Judge Norm Duncan with his long-time ties to gardening, thoroughly enjoyed his time outdoors.

"I just love to get out and meet the people. It's the community spirit that makes this program work."

Judge Luc Dethier, a gardening book author, was also pleased to partake of the area's hospitality and creativity.

The Town of Halton Hills held the Communities in Bloom Judges' Reception later in the evening, providing all participants with a chance to mingle and receive special awards for their tremendous effort in creating a memorable entry for the National Communities in Bloom competition.
