(Untitled)

If I should die, do not be concerned to know
The manner of my ending, if I fell
Leading a forlorn charge against the foe,
Strangled by gas, or shattered by a shell
Nor seek to see me in this death-in-life
Mid shirks and curses, oaths and blood and sweat,
Cold in the darkness, on the edge of strife,
Bored and afraid, irresolute, and wet

But if you think of me, remember one
Who loved good dinners, curious parody,
Swimming, and lying in the sun,
Latin hexameters, and heraldry,
Athenian subtleties,
Beethoven, Botticelli, beer and boys.

Lieutenant Philip Bainbridge, former schoolteacher, was killed soon after writing this.
