Yes to access!

By DEBORAH QUAILE

The final barrier was ceremoniously removed from Eden Mills Community Hall on November 12 in an event to mark the completion of the accessibility project.

After five years of volunteer planning, labour and raising $160,000 in donations, the community will reap the grand results of allowing all four levels of the hall to be open to individuals with mobility restrictions.

"We planned on a renovation grant, but hadn't planned on a restoration grant as well," noted Chris Wilson, President of the Eden Mills Community Club. "This, today is a chance to say thank you . . . and to let you see what your generosity has begat."

"Raising $160,000 in about a year has been an incredible achievement. This was not just the physical restoration of the building, . . . this project has restored the unity of the community."

The pleasure in the moment was continued with speeches given by Jim Gibbons of the Trillium Foundation, MPP Brenda Elliot, Mayor David Adsett, and Ed Langevin, co-chair of the Hall Access and Renovation Project (HARP).

Presentations of special silver harp pins, donated by Harmony Crafts of Guelph, were given to the "harpies" for their dedicated volunteer work with respect to the hall.

A tour of the renovations and a reception was provided, with refreshments courtesy of the Eden Mills Friendly Seniors.

Now it's official! Milton Mayor Gord Krantz recently presented Milton Millennium Community Residences Board member Merv Collings with a Building Permit at the Taste Of the Escarpment. This fundraiser was in support of Martindale Gardens, an assisted living facility to be located in the heart of Milton, which is expected to open next summer.
