

Boeing-Boeing

upset by anything and takes it in stride like a good Texan should. Sue Rose as Judith, the statuesque, passionate German is "very intense," as the maid Bertha noted.

Bill Smith's comic delivery engages his audience the quickest as he plays the naive, unbelieving friend who first melts at the sight of Jacqueline, a sexy French stewardess convincingly portrayed by Lisa MacNeil. It's he, however, who is caught in the middle as the flight timetables speed up due to quicker airplanes. He warns his friend, "If the planes get any faster your geometry's going to get a bit bent!"

This tight-knit cast of veteran actors that easily find their step in the first act. In Boeing-Boeing, when everyone has something to hide it's hard to guess what will happen.

Women 2 Women Acton Business Women's Meeting

Feature Business

Excel is the world's largest privately-owned telecommunications company. We offer complete telecommunication services with a personal touch. It's also about a fabulous opportunity for business owners, stay-at-home moms, students (18 and older), retirees, or anyone who is looking for additional income.

As a new mom myself, I was looking for an opportunity where I could work from home and make an additional income. While I was on parental leave I found this fabulous opportunity to become an Independent Representative for Excel Canada. As an Independent Representative, you not only own your own home-based business, but also get to belong to a very helpful and supportive team of people.

There is no experience necessary. Full training is provided. No guesswork and no time limitations means you don't have to give up what you are currently doing. There are no bosses, employees or inventory. The telecommunications industry is one of the most dynamic industries in the history of business. There is no better time to join!

We are always looking for new Independent Representatives to come and join this fantastic opportunity! If you are interested, or know of someone who is looking for an additional income, please contact me at jotimbers@myexcel.ca or at (519) 362-0030. I look forward to meeting you!
