It was standing room only as more than 200 people crowded into the Gambrel Barn at Country Heritage Park on November 20. Park President David Pelletterio, left, and Regional Chairman Joyce Savoline, centre, were on hand to enjoy the comedy stylings of Neil Aitchison, right, at this event, which raised just over $10,000 to be used for improvements and renovations to the Gambrel Barn.

The Campbellville Christmas Parade Committee has been negotiating with Santa to ensure his busy schedule includes a visit to the 28th annual event. The date for the parade is Sunday, December 21, 2003 with an official start time of 1:30 p.m. (assembly on Reid Sideroad takes place at 1 p.m.). Parade

Committee members believe that the parade holds the true spirit of the holiday season since it takes place so close to Christmas day. This year's theme is Preserving Wonder. Santa will be holding court after the event at the Campbellville Lions Hall where chilly well-wishers can enjoy gifts, coffee and snacks.
