Turning the soil for new hopes

Habitat for Humanity Halton's ground breaking event

By ANN KORNUA

The soil was turned in Acton on the morning of September 13th at the 111 Crescent Street ground breaking ceremony held by Habitat for Humanity Halton. The event was attended by Rick Bonnette, Mayor of Halton Hills, Councillor Clarke Somerville, representatives from CitiCapital and Prosperity One (who both made generous donations) and a crowd of volunteers and donors. The guests of honour were Stephanie Parker and her husband Ken Hepburn, who, through hard work and more than a little help from their friends, will be the proud owners of the finished home.

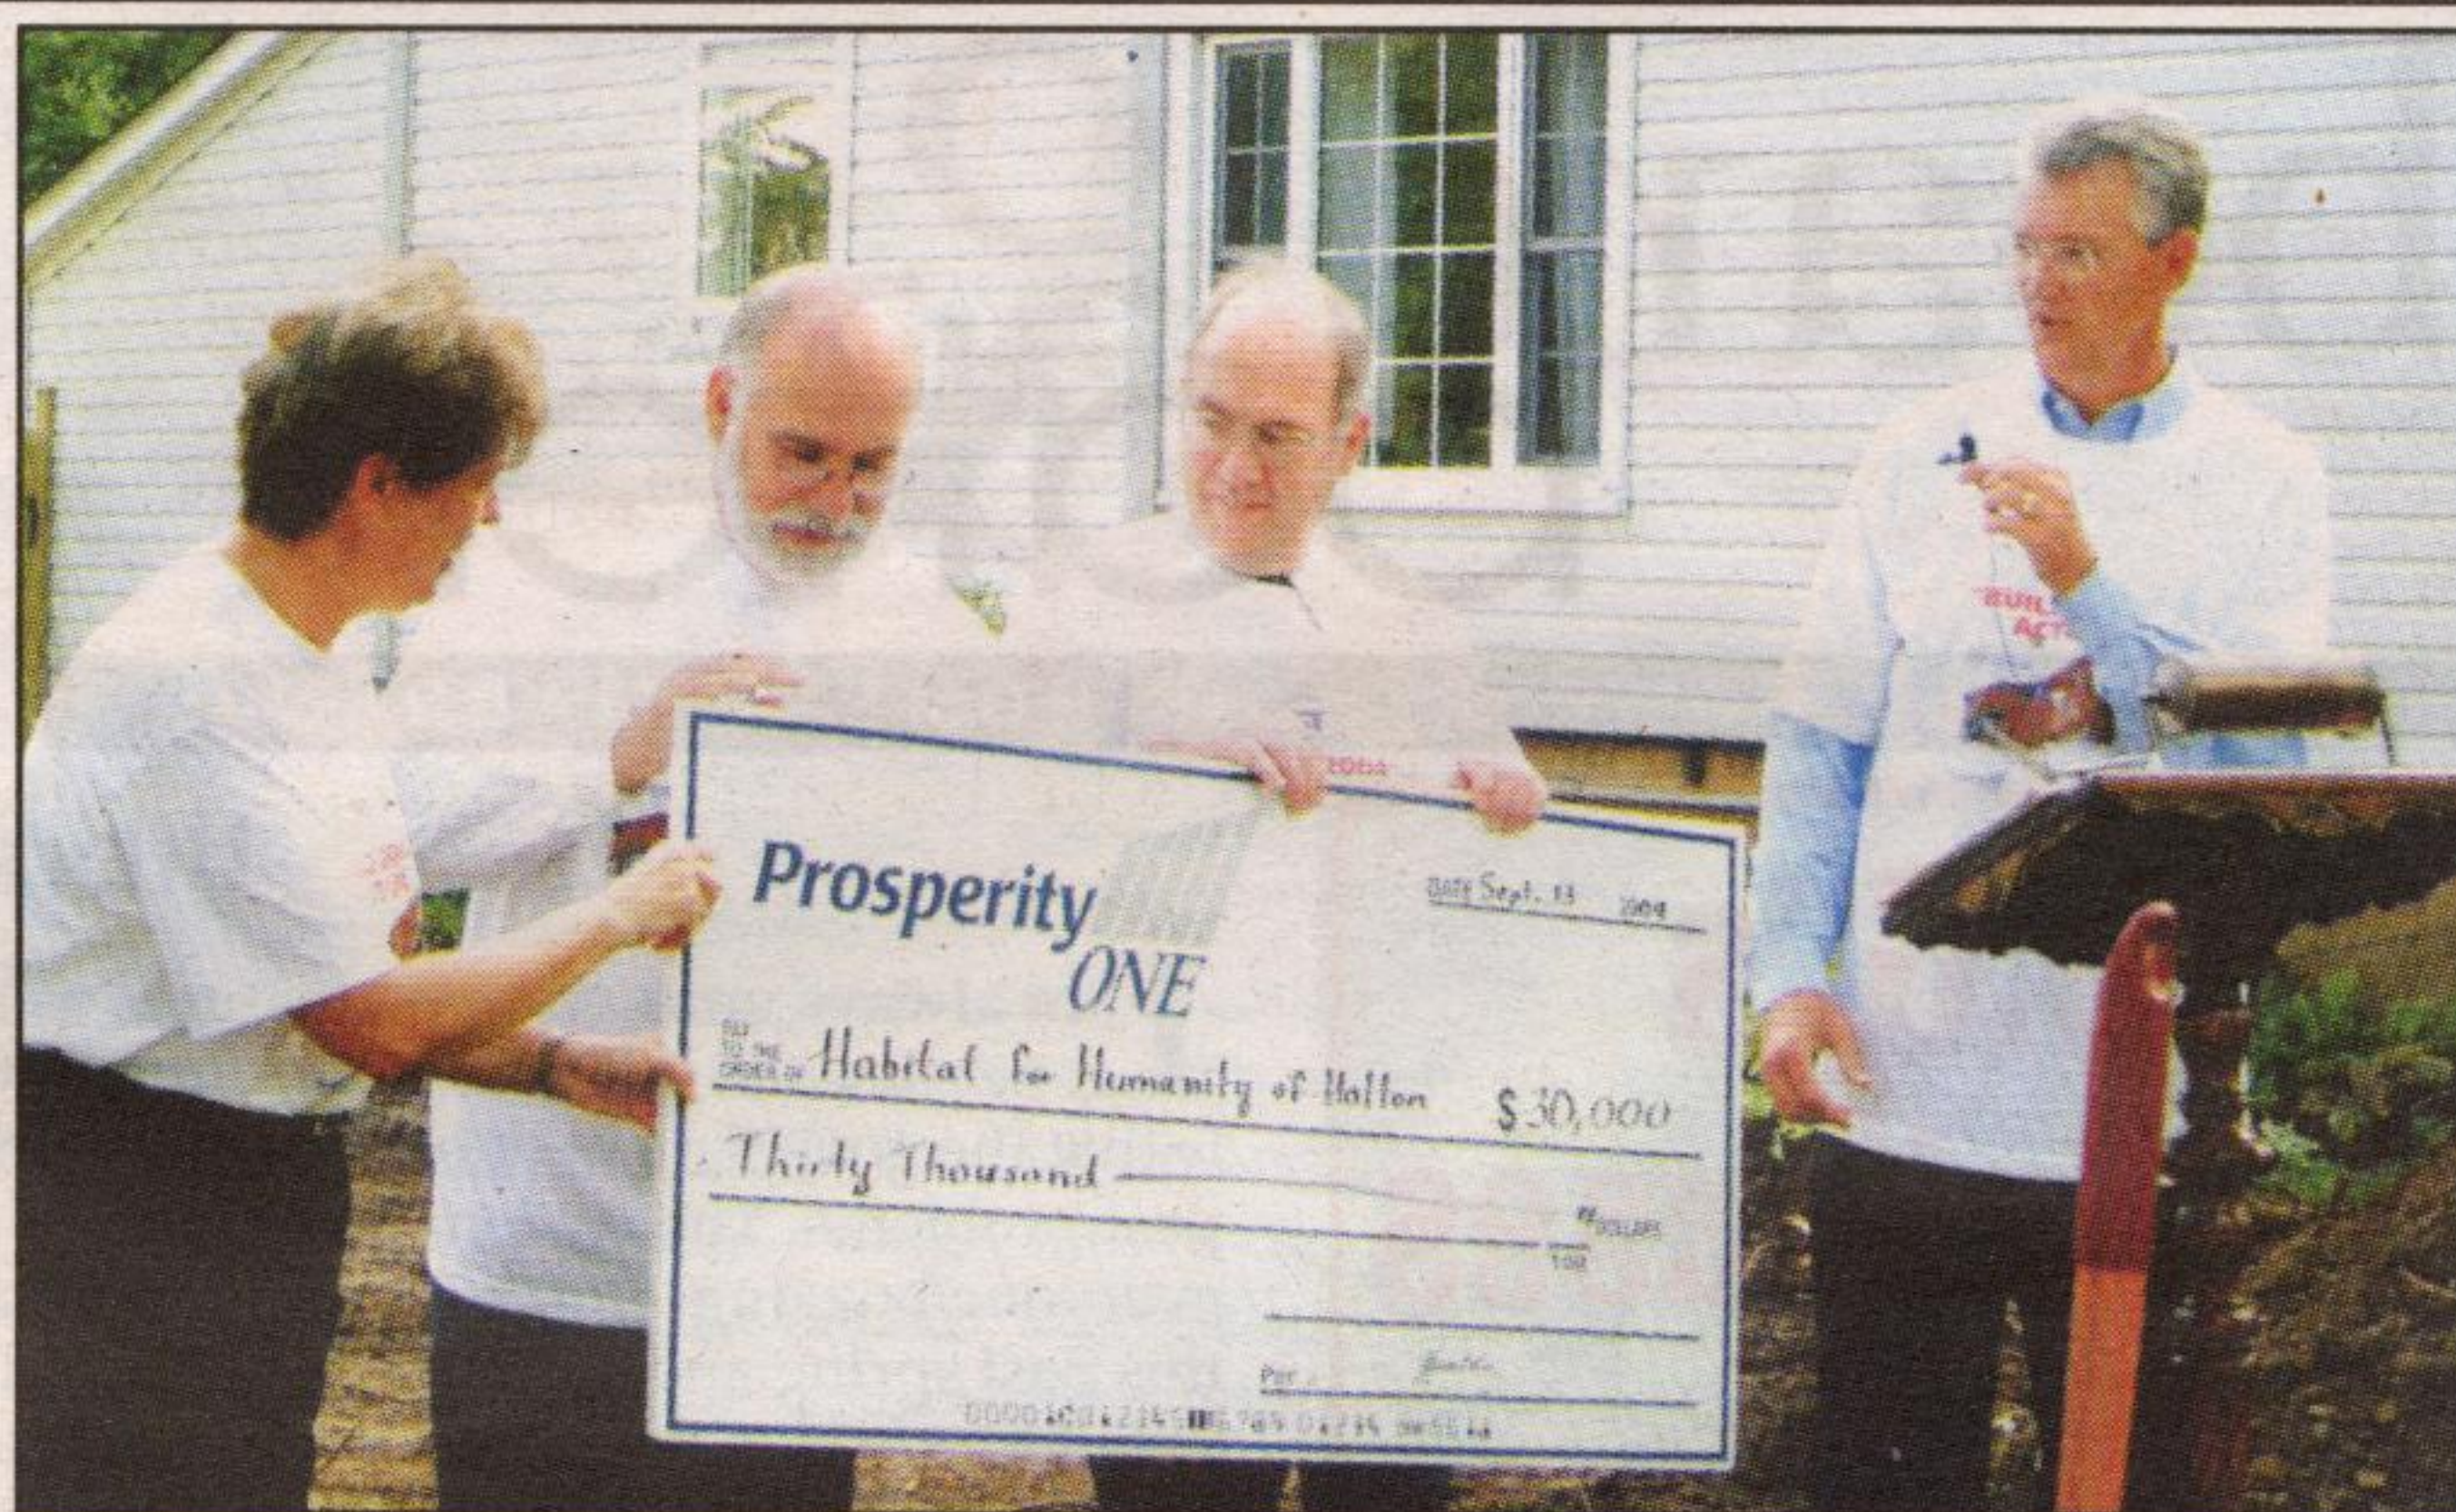

Peter Buwalda, the CEO of Prosperity One presented a check for $30,000 to Susan Goetz, the Habitat Board Chair. As well, Sandy Boa, the Managing Director of CitiCapital Canada presented a check in the amount of US $23,000. Other generous donations were made by Marta Sponder of the Oakville, Milton and District Real Estate board ($9,190) and the people at CUMIS pledged over $7,120 in their Heart for the Home campaign.

Leading off the day was a prayer by Pastor Ray VanderKooij and a welcome from Joanne Martin the Executive Director for Habitat for Humanity Halton.

Habitat for Humanity of Halton invites the people of Halton to match the donation of $30 000 by Prosperity One. You can get into the spirit by donating online at www.habitathalton.ca, or by mail (1800 Appleby Line Unit 10 Burlington ON L7L 6A1) or through the HFHH donation toll free hotline 1-866-314-4344 for Visa or MasterCard. All it takes is a pledge of $65 to purchase a square foot of the Acton home so get involved today.
