

Pampered in Campbellville

By CATHY MCLEOD

and spruced up for the "party" season was just too good to pass up.

So off I went to a lovely little shop that just opened in Campbellville called Hairitage, the Salon for Hair and Nails. It is in a 120-year-old home which originally housed the Metropolitan Bank of Toronto. The current

After

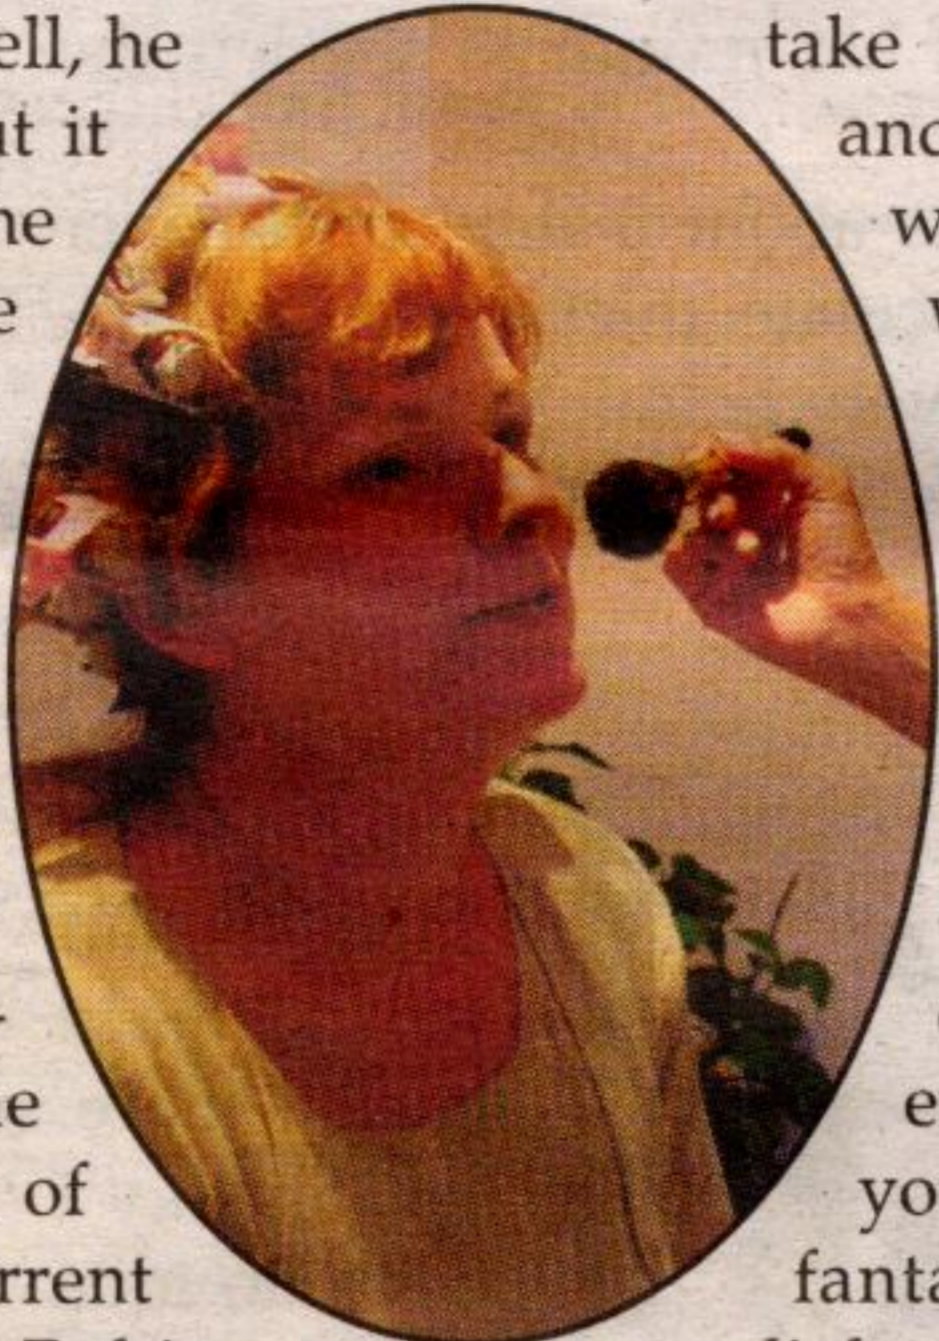

owner is Robin Mustapha who is also the owner of Hairitage.

Robin is no stranger to Campbellville having been in the area for over 20 years. She owned Robins' of Campbellville but took a break for three years. She is back now, well rested and raring to go.

Robin knows there is nothing like the friendliness and country feel of Campbellville. In fact, one of her clients welcomed her back by presenting her with a Christmas turkey.

With all the holiday obligations coming up, things can become overwhelming but Hairitage has the solution. When you have a function to go to, simply take your outfit and makeup and let Robin do the rest. She will do your hair and nails while you just sit back and relax. For a small charge Robin will apply and show you how best to put on your own makeup to bring out the best possible you.

During

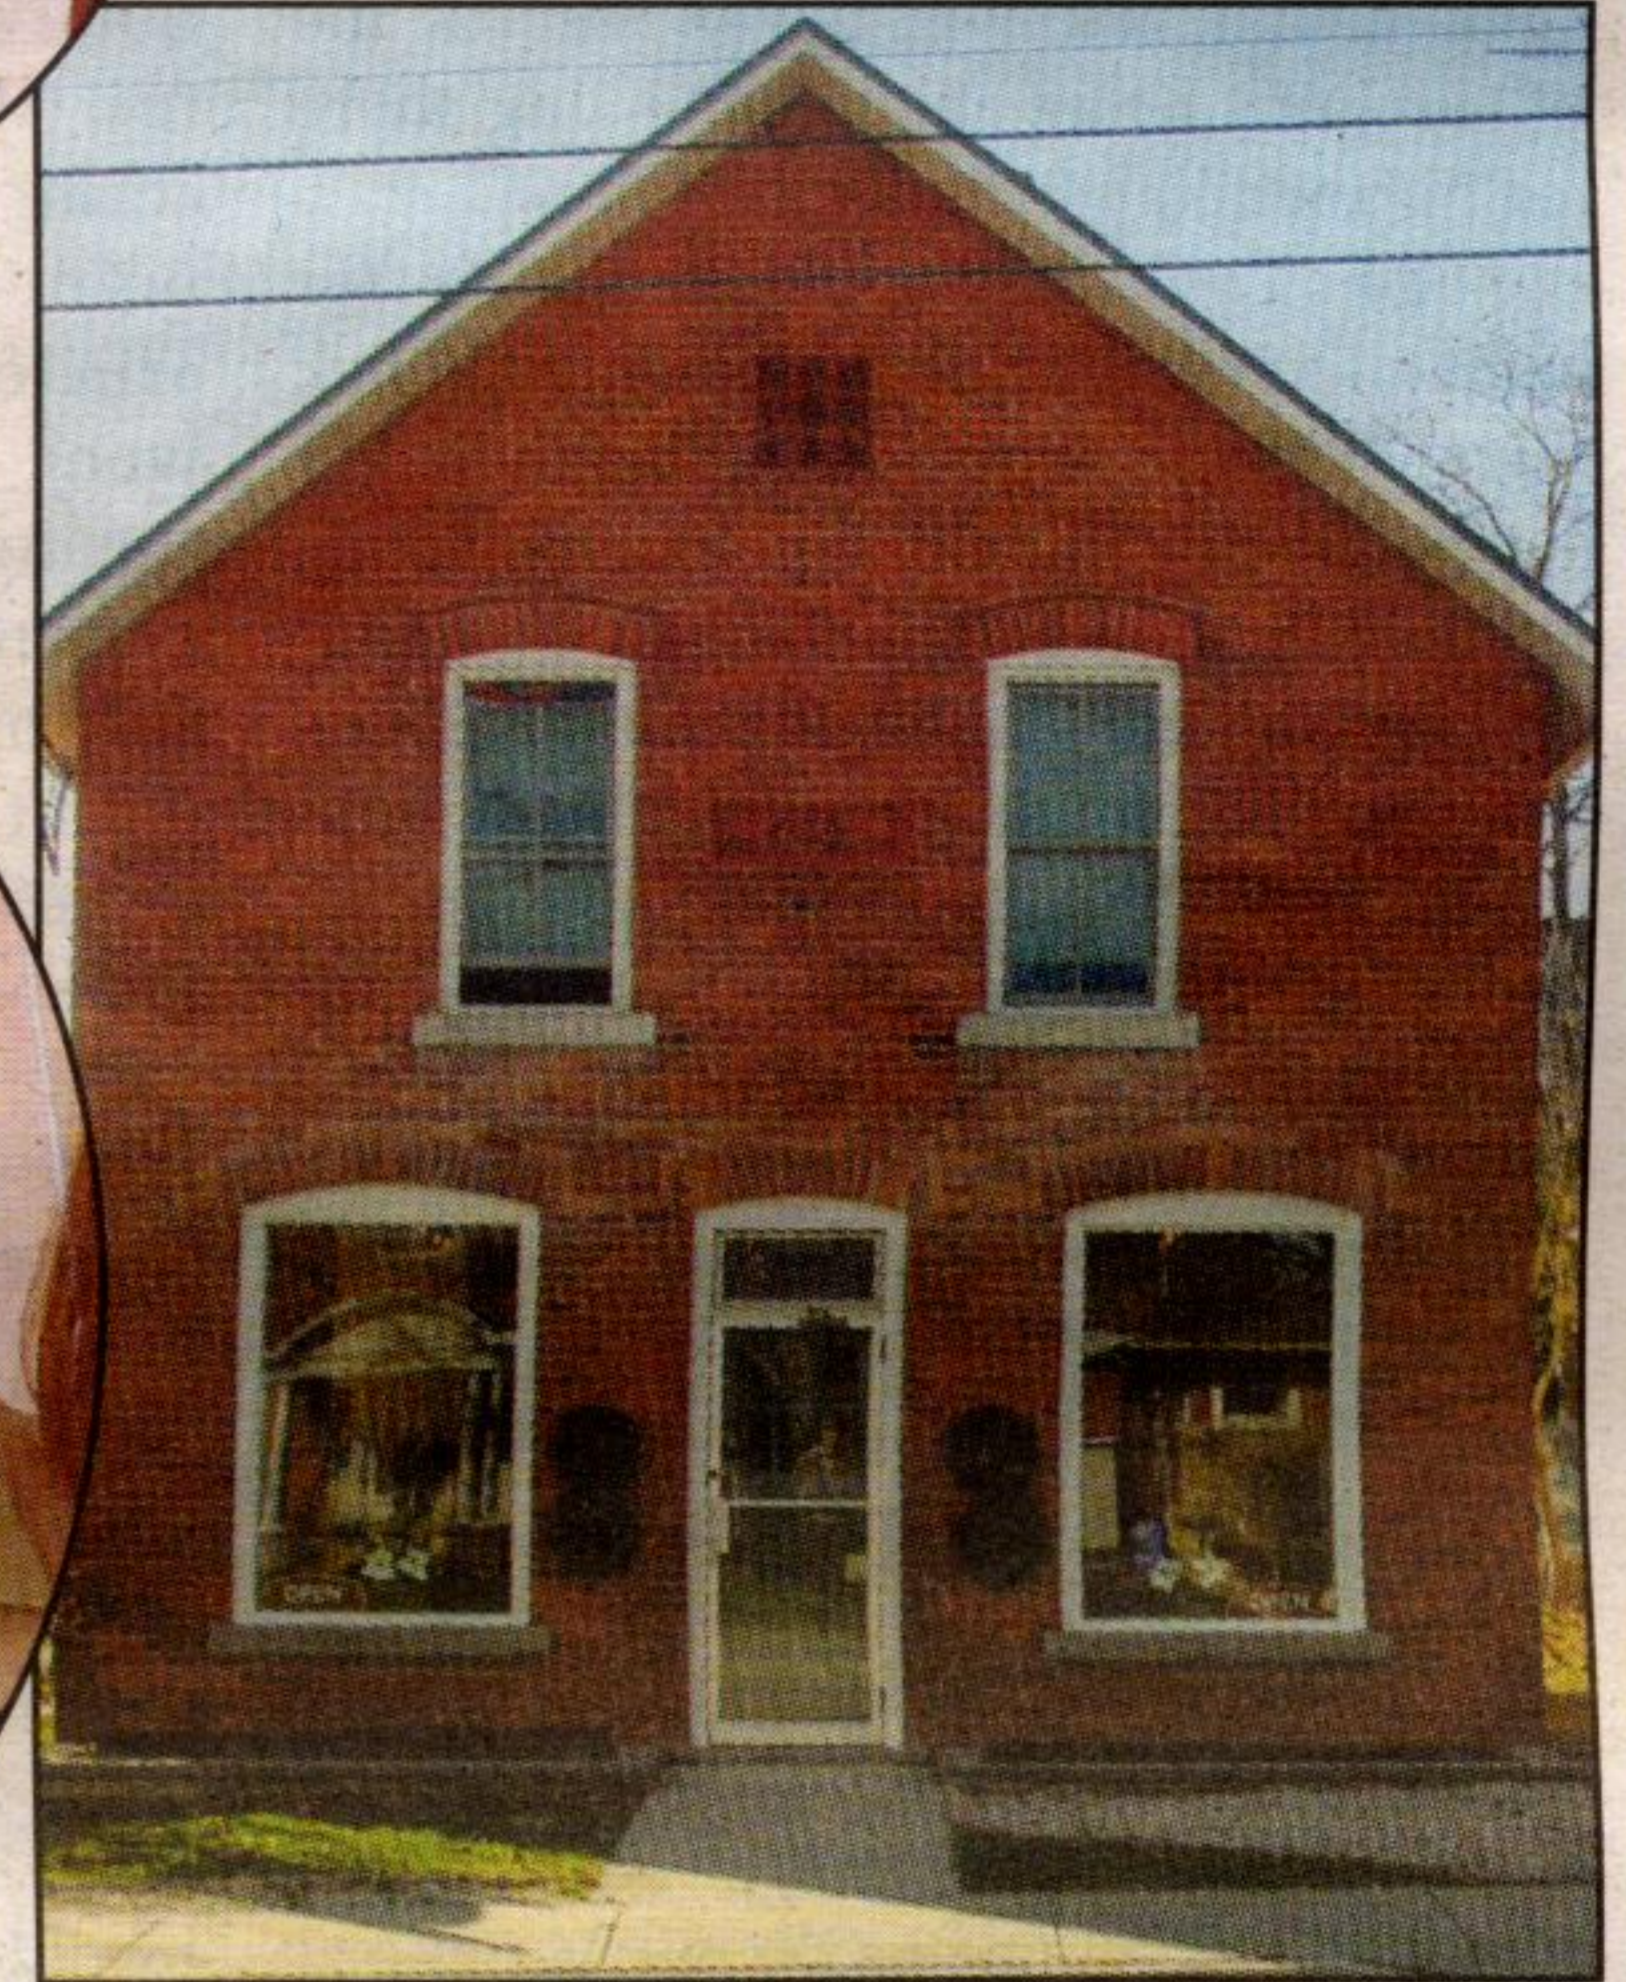

I thought it would be great fun to do a mini makeover from office drab to party chic. So I said what every stylist loves to hear..."do what you want, go crazy." I received a fantastic haircut and got the lights turned up on my colour. I was pampered silly with a manicure and makeup application and was all dolled up for a Christmas party. It is such a pleasure to find uptown quality in a small town setting.

Thanks Boss... how about a story on wardrobe makeovers next!!!

PS Boss: Nowadays men are venturing into the salon for various treatments. Although some are still not comfortable, Robin is implementing a men's night, when they can be beautified without being embarrassed.
