

High wind in Haltonville

No one was hurt when high winds on Tuesday night downed this tree at 11051 Guelph Line, Haltonville. Resident Manuela Nourkov is pictured in front of the severed tree trunk.

Project Wishbone

By DONNA DANIELLI

There are countless opportunities to make charitable donations to those less fortunate during the holiday season, but the Halton Regional Police Services have taken up the cause of Project Wish Bone this year, a project that they hope that Halton residents will open their hearts to. Project Wish Bone supports the lost, abandoned, and abused animals taken in by the Upper Credit Humane Society and other area animal shelters. These animals ask for little out of life, some love, a soft bed, veterinarian care and a bowl of food. Halton Regional Police are accepting donations at their stations in Acton, Milton and Georgetown, and hope that residents, when picking up a toy or food for their own pet, think about the animals in need at the shelter. The wish list for the Upper Credit Humane Society includes gently used blankets, comforters and towels, canned or dry food, leashes and collars, pet toys, cat litter, rabbit water bottles, brushes and combs, food dishes and more. Cash donations will also be accepted at the police stations with tax receipts available for donations over $25. Donations will be accepted until December 24 and arrangement for pick up of large items is available. More information about Project Wish Bone is available by calling 905-878-5511.

Let's make this a warm and Merry Christmas for all of God's creatures, large and small.
