

Milton Mayor and Council celebrate at Annual New Year's Levee

By ANN KORNUA

On New Year's Day Mayor Gord Krantz opened the doors to the Town Hall to welcome the citizens of Milton to the annual New Year's Levee.

This old English tradition reflects a time when noble or royal delegates would receive visitors informally soon after getting up in the morning. In the twenty-first century the Mayor and Council of Milton use the Levee to recognize community groups from the town as well as to mingle with the people of Milton for a social event. This year marked Mayor Krantz's twenty fourth New Year's Levee.

Featured at the 2005 Levee was the Milton Fine Arts Society with a beautiful selection of paintings by its members who were on hand to meet the public as they dropped by. Alongside the display provided by FASM, the Milton Historical Society provided displays and information on the Town of Milton.

"On average we have around 200 people on and it follows immediately on the heels of the bell ringing from the previous evening," Mayor Krantz said. "It has been a Milton tradition for many years and I hope it will be carried on for years to come."
