

Deidre and friends at Woodbine

By ANN KORNUA

Each February, Clem Scholtz, founder of the Deidre and Friends Foundation presents a day at the races at Toronto's Woodbine Race track to help raise awareness for Bone Marrow research. On this February 13 the Deidre and Friends Foundation will host a gala event in the Private Members Club with food, fun and a chance for everyone to walk away a winner.

Deidre's story is how one little girl overcame a life threatening illness. It has been over nine years since Deidre's mother announced to the world that her child was diagnosed with Severe Idiopathic Aplastic Anemia and a bone marrow donor was the only hope. With the support of the Milton community Deidre was given a second chance at life.

This led to the creation of the Deidre and Friends Foundation spearheaded by her father, Clem Scholtz.

"We as a foundation deal with Bone Marrow treatment. Whether you are from Milton or Toronto it doesn't matter because diseases that affect bone marrow can happen to anyone at any time all over the world," Clem said. "The backing we had from the community in Milton gave us enough courage to try something like this. Otherwise we would never have dreamt of trying to set up the foundation."

Deidre and Friend's Woodbine Race Day includes an invitation to Woodbine's private members club where a buffet meal will be provided, along with door prizes and a draw. The draw prize of a Glen Eagle Golf Resort golf and dinner for four will go to the individual who is closest in guessing the number of horseshoe nails in a jar. In addition, four door prizes will be drawn offering golf packages at Granite Ridge Golf Club for a party of four, vouchers for M&M Meats, and Molson Canadian sports bags.

Money raised from this event will go support the families of victims of bone marrow illness. "We want families to know that they are not alone when faced with a life threatening illness," Clem said. In addition to helping families in need, this event at Woodbine will help promote bone marrow research. Tickets are $75 a person and more information can be had by contacting Clem or Liz Scholtz at 905-878-3401 or emailing the Foundation at deidre.friends.foundation@sympatico.ca
