Georgetown's Country Depot welcomes Spring

BY ELAINE THOMAS

The Georgetown Country Depot is welcoming Spring's arrival with a few new arrivals of their own. The propane filling station is now open to customers needing to fill barbeque, R.V., forklift or hundred pound tanks. Clients of the store have been asking owners Rob and Tracy Paris about the filling station for months. Actually the Parises have had the project ready to go for seven months and awaiting inspection by the government appointed firm TSSA (Technical Standards and Safety Authority) for all that time. The TSSA inspector finally arrived at the store on Thursday March 22nd and a license was granted.

Another sign that spring is officially upon us is the arrival of "Chick Days". The store is now taking orders for baby chicks, with delivery every other Tuesday.

A variety of bulbs and seeds are now available for those customers who can't wait for the gardening to begin. Mulches, soils and flowers will be soon to follow, with the expected re-opening of the greenhouse sometime in May.

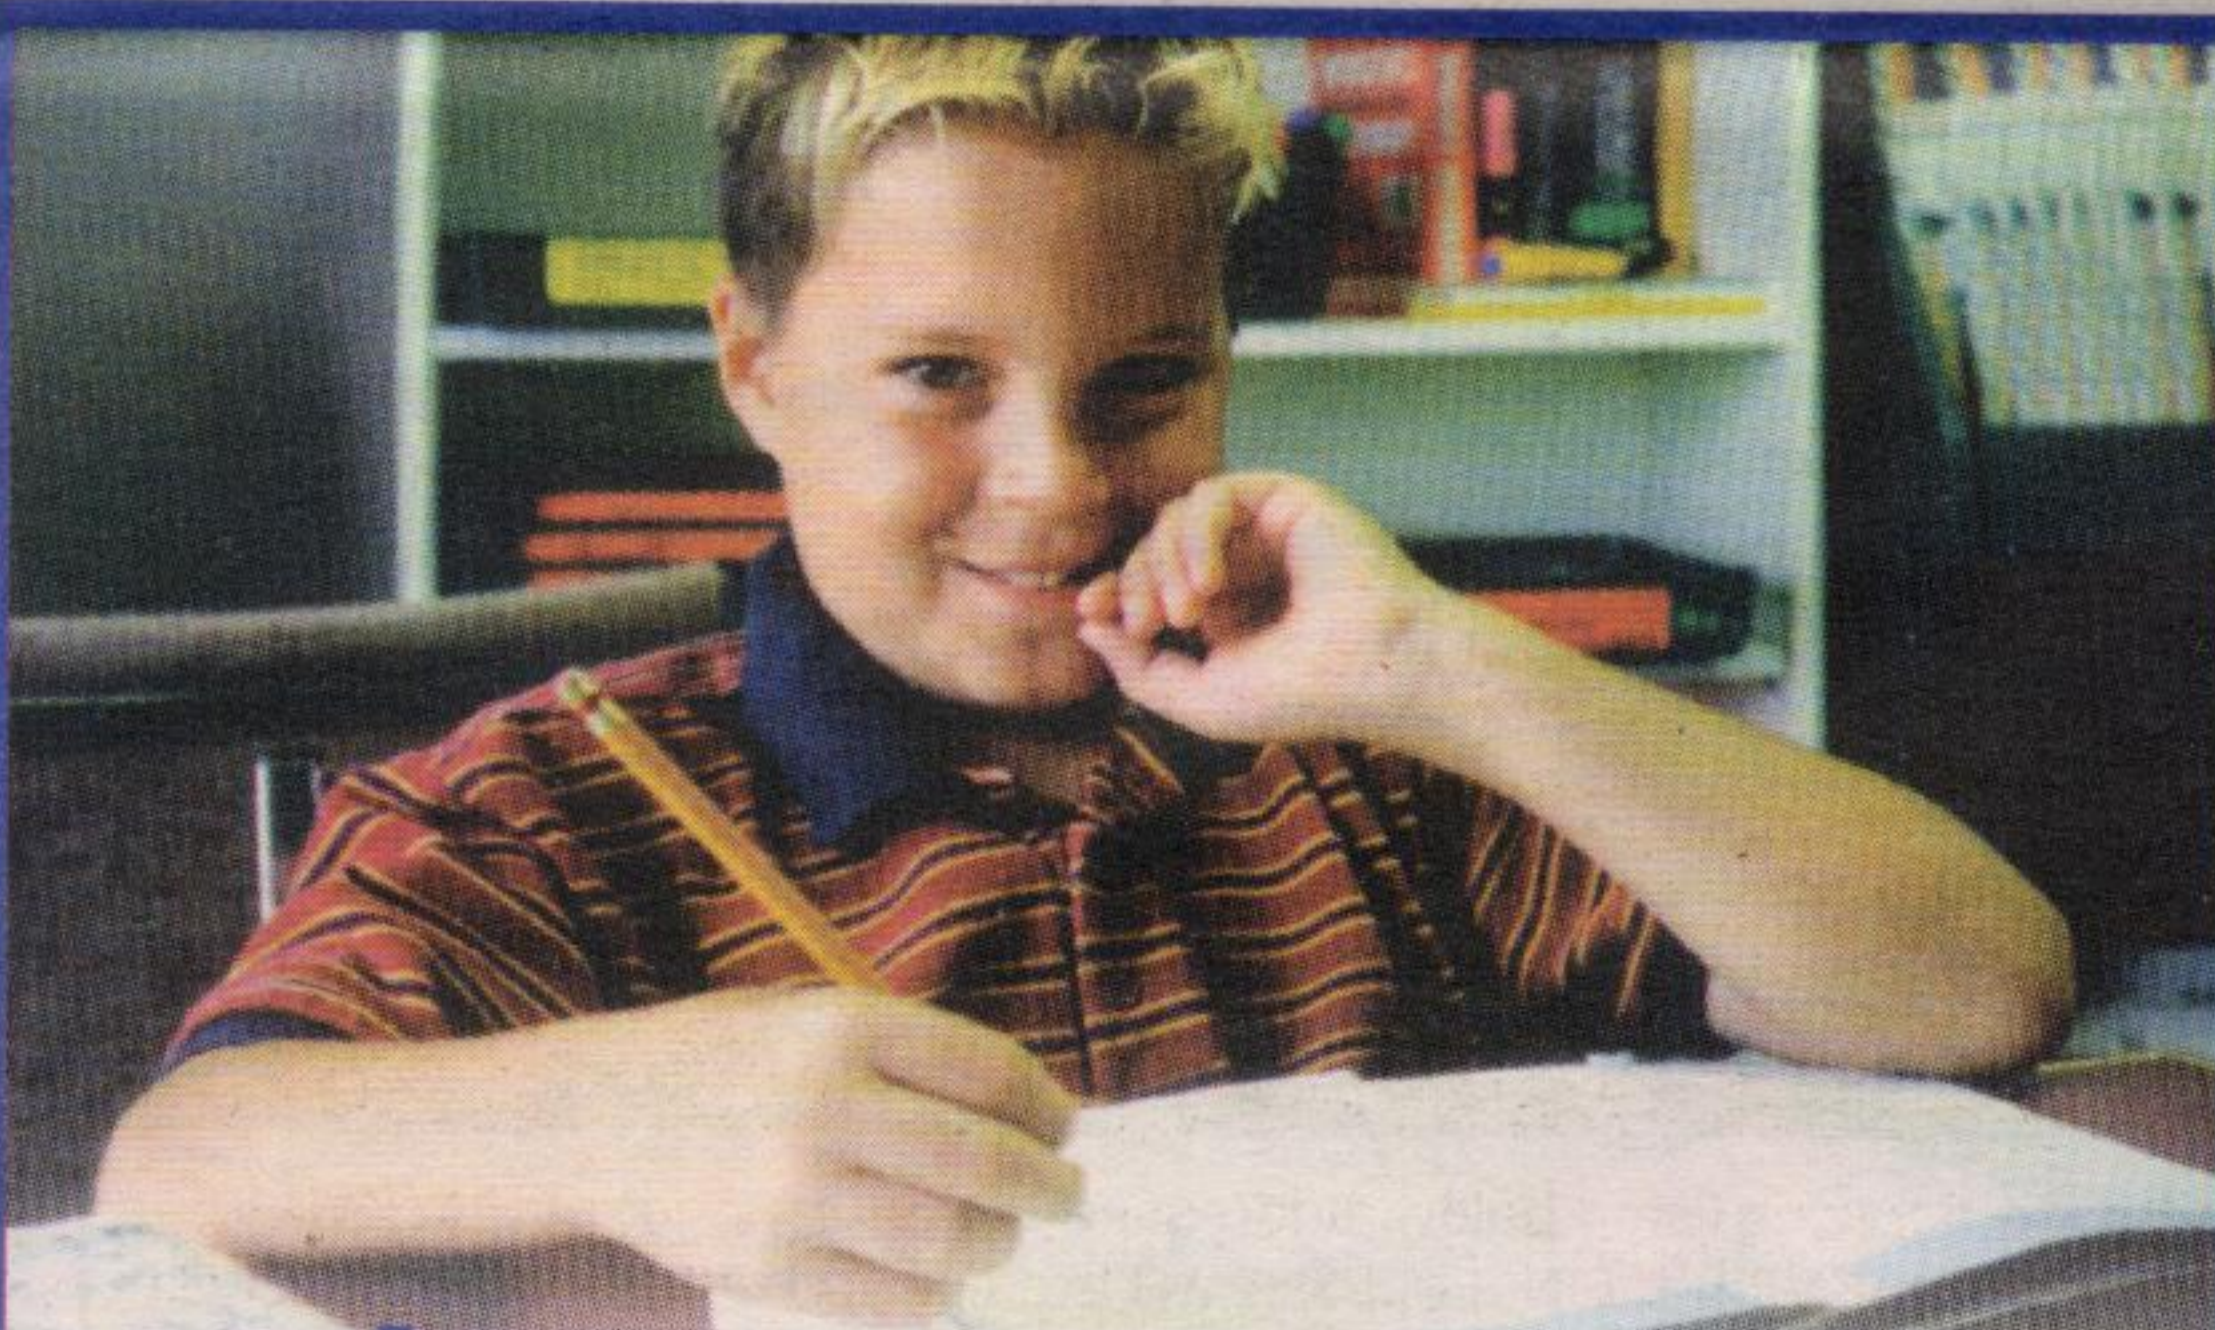

Georgetown Country Depot has almost anything you need to prepare for the season. A visit to the on site tanning salon Sun Country, will even remove that winter pallor from your skin.

Spring in to Country Depot's Highway 7 location or give them a call at 905 702-1833.

When a tutor isn't enough

Oxford Learning can help if your child:

- has trouble paying attention or staying on task
- works too hard for the gains he/she achieves
- has problems remembering
- has difficulty comprehending what he/she reads
- struggles with reading, math or spelling
- has other learning difficulties or reading problems

Oxford Learning's unique Dynamic Diagnostic Assessment™ pinpoints your child's strengths and weaknesses. Then we'll customize a program that teaches your child how to learn more effectively. The result is increased confidence, better grades, and lifelong success at school. Call us today for more information or to book your no-obligation visit.
