Performing Arts summer camp to be held in Glen Williams

GlenStar Camp for the Performing Arts will be in the Georgetown Marketplace on Saturday, May 7th and Saturday, May 14 to complete the final wave of registration for its inaugural summer camps being held this July. GlenStar provides campers ages 10 to 15 exposure to different aspects of performing arts combined with traditional summer fun. The program, which takes place at the historic Town Hall in Glen Williams, encourages participants to express, explore and build self-confidence through the world of drama. Sessions are two weeks in length, and each one will conclude with a final outdoor theatre performance in the Glen Park at the Gazebo.

Camp Directors Amy Kelleher and Erin Rowe have created a program that includes a variety of interesting and fun activities for the campers. The first week of camp will include theatre games, elements of music and dance, improvisation, and some surprise guest appearances. GlenStar has even lined up a Canadian Idol finalist who will be singing live for the campers and speaking to them about his Canadian Idol experience. There will also be plenty of room for outdoor activities and theme days. One of the biggest sellers for this camp is a bus excursion to Stratford is included in the camp fee. The campers will see a production of "Hello Dolly", a family musical that can be seen at Stratford's Festival Theatre this season.

Directors Kelleher and Rowe are residents of Glen Williams and are appreciative about the enthusiasm that has been generated from members of the arts community and from local organizations throughout Halton Hills. Mrs. Kelleher has taught both elementary and secondary school for nine years, and has kept busy with many school productions and coaching students in public speaking. Her experience also includes a variety of Day Camps offered by the YMCA and the Peel District School Board. Miss Rowe also brings to GlenStar many experiences with summer camp and the performing arts. She is a leader and a supervisor for the Town of Halton Hills theatre camps, and in 2000, she was awarded the Youth Citizen of the Year for the Glen, and her contributions to the community have earned her a prestigious Queen's Jubilee Medal.

To register, drop by the Georgetown Marketplace on Saturday, May 7th or Saturday May 14th and a registration package will be made available to you. Camp sessions run from July 4th-15th or July 18-29th. For more information, call (905)877-0783 or email them at glenstar@canada.com.

70's theme Heart and Stroke fundraiser at Georgetown's Power Zone Fitness Centre

By ANN KORNUA

Kellie Hayward, co owner of the Power Zone Fitness Center is getting her legwarmers and 70's groove ready for May 14th. From 9am to 12 noon on that day Power Zone will hold a fund drive for the Heart and Stroke Foundation. Members and non-members of the gym can participate. "There will be all sorts of fun classes for people to take part in. There will be kick boxing classes and step classes. Everyone is asked to join in with the 70's style theme and get with the music," Kellie explained. Everyone who signs up for the activities will be coached to help reach their goals.

"We will be having healthy food and a stress seminar that will talk about how to cope with stress in today's lifestyle. Not everyone will want to stay for the whole three hours, but everyone is welcome to stop by." Kellie said. Power Zone Fitness is asking everyone who comes out for a minimum $10 donation that will go towards lab research in the Heart and Stroke Foundation. Members of Power Zone have already signed up. Hats, T-shirts, and travel bags are just some of the prizes the Heart and Stroke will hand out at this event.

The statistics in Halton Hills are high for heart disease, strokes, and getting active in the community and enjoying the good weather is one way to help improve a healthier body.

So come out and disco out the Crisco while helping promote the Heart and Stroke foundation. Prizes and give a ways will be offered during the entire event encouraging people to get active and reach their healthy goals. To find out more information or to get your own pledge form for Power Zone's Heart and Stroke event, stop by their Guelph Street location in Georgetown, located between Tim Horton's and Swiss Chalet or call 905-702-9309.

Star light up Halton Hills

By JERRY FORD

The Russell Braun, Carolyn Maule & Friends Concert at St. John's United Church in Georgetown on Saturday night provided the capacity audience with a variety of music from around the world.

Baritone Russell Braun performs regularly at the world's greatest opera houses and concert halls. Pianist Carolyn Maule has performed across North America and Europe, and performs regularly with her husband Russell Braun. Carolyn and Russell live in Glen Williams with their two sons and are members of St. John's United Church in the Glen.

The 'Friends' sharing the stage are truly a gathering of long-time friends who now live and perform around the globe.

Soprano Meridith Hall lives in Leipzig with her husband, guitarist Bernard Farley. Oliver Dawson lives in Italy with his wife and two sons. Haydn Evans has been Director of Music for St. John's United Church for twenty years and lives in Georgetown with his wife and two children.

The combined choirs of St. John's Georgetown and St. John's Glen Williams rounded out the musical ensemble that provided an incredible range of entertaining works in four languages.

Folk Songs from Germany, Italy, Scotland and Canada delighted the audience until intermission. A Collection of Sacred Songs and A Collection of Spirituals filled the second half of the concert to bring this delightful and inspiring evening to a close.
