There are more people playing golf today and by all estimates there will be even more starting into the game.

Beginners or not, the golf you play will be determined by costs. So, if you're looking for the latest in clubs, or a bargain, try to take in the Toronto Golf and Country Travel Show.

This is the one place where you can take a swing with a brand new club. Try that in a store and see how far you get. If you're going to invest, it's nice to have a test drive.

If you're looking for your first set of clubs of another over-size wood, Round-Up found there are bargains out there.

The Golf Show runs Sunday, March 26 to April 1, at the Metro Toronto Convention Centre. Admission $10.
